EEO Public File Report
Attachment “B”

WOI has engaged in the following outreach activities as covered during the term of this report:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Type of Activity</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>(i) Job Fair Participation – In two years’ time: Participation in at least four job fairs by station personnel who have substantial responsibility in the making of hiring decisions</td>
<td>WOI-AM and WOI-FM participated in the February 15, 2017 Iowa State University Greenlee School of Journalism Jump-Start Internship and Job Fair career fair, presenting professional and internship opportunities in public radio and raising general awareness of the organization among young professionals.&lt;br&gt;WOI-AM and WOI-FM participated in the September 26, 2017 Iowa State University Greenlee School of Journalism Jump-Start Internship and Job Fair career fair, presenting professional and internship opportunities in public radio and raising general awareness of the organization among young professionals.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(iv) Participation in community group events – In two years’ time: Participation in at least four events sponsored by organizations representing groups present in the community interested in broadcast employment issues, including conventions, career days, workshops, and similar activities</td>
<td>On December 1, 2016, News Director Michael Leland hosted a journalism class from Drake University. During their time with Leland, the students learned about audio production, explored what makes a good story, and news careers in public radio.&lt;br&gt;On December 1, 2016, Reporter Amy Mayer served as a guest speaker to an Iowa State University Agricultural Communications class. The students learned about audio production, explored what makes a good story, and discussed career opportunities in public radio.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(v) Internship Program – In two years’ time: Establishment of an internship program designed to assist members of the community to acquire skills needed for broadcast employment</td>
<td>WOI continued its internship program, offering opportunities in its operations department. The internship program works with students at Iowa State University, offering skills-developing internships that have prepared students for employment after college. Several students that have participated in this program have later begun successful careers in public media.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(v) Internship Program (Cont’d) –</td>
<td>One student this past year held an internship in the operations department, where he participated in the daily production of radio content, including ingesting audio from local and national (satellite) sources, editing it as necessary to fit time parameters, packaging it with Traffic spots, and sending it to the transmitters for broadcast. In the past year 1 student participated in the internship program.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(viii) Training Programs –</td>
<td>WOI encourages its employees to participate in career-development opportunities, which include webinars, in-person training, and conference participation in areas of relevance to the employee and the employee’s work. This year, staff participated in several professional development training programs. A few of those programs are included as examples of how WOI supports training for its employees. Reporter Amy Mayer attended ScienceWriters2016, a training and conference event that occurred October 28 – November 1, 2016 in San Antonio, Texas. The conference included sessions around building reporting skills, conducting interviews with scientists, and increasing science knowledge of science reporters. The knowledge gained during this conference helped Mayer increase her effectiveness in her role. News Director Michael Leland attended “Building an Engaging Newsroom,” a workshop presented by Poynter November 10 – 12, 2016 in Chicago, Illinois. The workshop included sessions around audience engagement, producing feature stories based on public inquiries, and launching projects in “legacy” newsrooms. The knowledge gained during this workshop helped Leland build and develop the local newsroom. Broadcast Operations Manager Jason Burns attended the 2017 Public Radio Engineering Conference, which occurred April 20 and 21, 2017 in Las Vegas, Nevada. The conference included sessions around production techniques, sound encoding, metadata management, and broadcast technology. The knowledge gained during this workshop helped the organization improve its audio quality and planning for future audio changes.</td>

(viii) Training Programs (Cont’d) –

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Development Specialist Amy O’Shaughnessy participated in several webinars hosted by Greater Public. These webinars include “Facebook Live, Digital Payments, and the Internet of Things with Heather Mansfield,” which was presented May 3, 2017 and “Creating a top-performing membership program,” which was presented August 10, 2017. These webinars helped O’Shaughnessy increase her effectiveness in her role and infuse new ideas in the membership programming.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>News Director Michael Leland attended the Public Radio News Directors Incorporated (PRNDI) conference, which occurred June 23 &amp; 24, 2017 in Miami, Florida. The conference included sessions around defending “real news” against “fake news,” covering healthcare, reporting on guns, and reporting on immigration. The knowledge gained during this conference provided resources and information to Leland to support the station’s news gathering and broadcasting efforts.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Development Specialist Amy O’Shaughnessy and Development Operations Manager Troy Vogel attended the Public Media Development and Marketing Conference, which occurred July 5 – 7, 2017 in San Francisco, California. The conference included sessions around digital shopping and fundraising, building and maintaining healthy membership programs, and generally increasing donations and the donor experience in media. The knowledge gained during this conference helped both employees increase their effectiveness in their roles and, consequently, help increase station donations.</td>
