SPY IN THE WILD

In the most innovative series Nature has ever presented, the five-part “Spy in the Wild” employs over 30 animatronic “spycams” disguised as animals to secretly record behavior in the wild. These spy cameras reveal animals as having emotions and behavior similar to humans—specifically, a capacity to love, grieve, deceive, cooperate, and invent. Featured Spy Creatures include: Spy Hippo, Spy Orangutan, Spy Bushbaby, Spy Cobra, Spy Sloth, and many more.

The robotic look-alikes infiltrate the natural world to film surprising human-like behavior—all captured from the animal’s point of view: chimps that keep pets, dolphins that bear gifts, meerkat babysitters, monkeys that get drunk, and other extraordinary behavior. Spy Baby Crocodile takes a ride inside the mouth of a real crocodile as she gathers her babies up for safety and Spy Squirrel discovers how real squirrels use intellect to overcome nut thieves, and more.

The final episode shows the painstaking work that goes into building the lifelike models and how the team deploys and operates the robotic cameras on location all over the world. Thirty-one locations in 21 countries were visited across all continents and habitats, from jungle and desert to oceans and the poles. For every hour-long program, 1250 hours were actually shot as the many cameras waited for the elusive moments shown in the film.

“Spy in the Wild” on Nature airs on 3-2 Wednesdays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 1st and repeats Saturdays at 11:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Wednesdays at 9:00 p.m. beginning the 1st and repeats Thursdays at 8:00 a.m./3:00 p.m.

THE WILD WEST

The Wild West is a two-part drama-documentary series that tells the stories of “General Custer” and “Wyatt Earp.” Part one explores Custer’s motives when, on a blistering hot Sunday in June 1876, 366 men of his 7th Cavalry attacked an Indian village numbering 2,000 braves. Two-thirds of the soldiers were killed. But the latest historical research shows that, against all the odds, Custer was close to pulling off a remarkable victory. And his actions, far from foolish, were based on a brutally simple plan.

General Custer

“Wyatt Earp” looks at what was the most famous shoot-out in history, the Gunfight at O.K. Corral in Tombstone, Arizona in 1881. After just 30 seconds of gunfire, three men lay dead and two badly wounded. And in that frantic half-minute, a legend was born—the legend of the righteous lawman Wyatt Earp. But after the gunsmoke cleared, Earp was charged with murdering innocent men and put on trial for his life.

The Wild West airs Tuesdays at 10:00 p.m. beginning the 7th, Thursdays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 9th, and Sundays at 10:00 a.m. beginning the 12th. On 3-1, both episodes can be seen Monday, the 27th at 7:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m.

Queen Victoria and the Crippled Kaiser

Beginning behind palace doors and ending in the carnage of World War I, Queen Victoria and the Crippled Kaiser is the fascinating story of a royal family marred by shame and cruelty. Featuring a long-hidden cache of intimate family letters, this gripping historical documentary examines the complex dynamic between the young Friedrich Wilhelm Viktor Albert (the future Kaiser Wilhelm II), and his mother Vicky, the eldest child of Queen Victoria of England.

Born with a permanently paralyzed arm, Wilhelm endured crude and cruel procedures to cure his disability at the behest of his mother, creating a highly dysfunctional rapport between the two. This poisoned family relationship helped shape the future of a continent, turning the boy born to unite the royal families of Britain and Germany into the man who tore them apart.

Queen Victoria and the Crippled Kaiser airs on 3-2 Sunday, the 12th at 9:00 p.m./11:00 p.m. and Friday, the 17th at 11:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Monday, the 20th at 8:00 a.m./3:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 26th at 9:00 p.m.

AURORA

In Earth’s polar regions, the aurora—a ghostly flicker and colorful glow—mysteriously brightens the night sky. One of the most incredible natural phenomena in the world, the array of colors of the aurora is a source of endless theory and wonder. What creates such beauty and spectacle?

Aurora—Fire in the Sky links popular myths to the aurora’s physical effects on the natural world. The film travels the globe, incorporating scientific research and myth, to share with viewers the awe-inspiring mystery of the aurora.

For some tribes, aurora is the spirit of ancestors playing ball in the sky; for others, it’s a harbinger of war, plague, and famine. Aurora visits Finland’s Saami, Alaska’s Inuit, Canada’s Native Americans, and New Zealand’s Maori, each with legends of their own.

Aurora—Fire in the Sky airs on 3-2 Wednesday, the 1st at 9:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 5th at 10:00 a.m. On 3-1, it airs Wednesday, the 1st at 8:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 2nd at 7:00 a.m./2:00 p.m.

NOVA

Search for the Super Battery

Even though there have been some improvements in the last century, batteries remain finicky, bulky, expensive, toxic, and maddeningly short-lived. The quest is on for a “super battery,” and the stakes in this hunt are much higher than the phone in your pocket. With climate change looming, electric cars and renewable energy sources like wind and solar power could hold keys to a greener future... if we can engineer the perfect battery.

After a crush test at the Battery Abuse Testing Lab at Sandia National Labs in New Mexico, these incinerated parts are all that's left of the battery.

Thursday, the 2nd, at 4:00 p.m., Friday, the 3rd at 8:00 p.m., and Sunday, the 5th at 4:00 p.m.

Ultimate Cruise Ship

In Italian shipyards, engineers are working around the clock to build the world's largest and most luxurious cruise ship, costing half a billion dollars. “Ultimate Cruise Ship” on Nova follows the teams' setbacks and triumphs as they struggle to meet their deadline to create a floating paradise.

The Seven Seas Explorer

The Seven Seas Explorer is no ordinary ship, weighing in at 54,000 gross tons and stretching over two football fields. It will be decked with the finest gold, marble, and crystal, and designed to offer guests the roomiest accommodations of any commercial cruise ship. But engineering opulence is no easy feat.

“Ultimate Cruise Ship” on Nova can be seen Wednesday, the 8th at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 11th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Thursday, the 9th at 4:00 p.m., Friday, the 10th at 8:00 p.m., and Sunday, the 12th at 4:00 p.m.

Origami Revolution

Nova explores the high-tech future of an age-old art in “Origami Revolution.” The century old tradition of folding two-dimensional paper into three-dimensional shapes is sparking a scientific revolution and unlocking nature's secrets. Engineers and designers are discovering how, by adapting the principles of origami, they are able to reshape the world around us and even within us.

The rules of folding are at the heart of many natural phenomena, from how leaves blossom to how beetles fly. But now, origami is being adopted in designing new drugs, micro-robots, even future space missions.

“Origami Revolution” on Nova airs Wednesday, the 15th at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 18th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Thursday, the 16th at 4:00 p.m., Friday, the 17th at 8:00 p.m., and Sunday, the 19th at 4:00 p.m.

Rebecca

Rebecca, a three-hour adaptation of Daphne du Maurier's classic tale of romance, suspense, and jealousy, is set in elegant Monte Carlo and dramatic Cornwall in the 1930s.

When Maxim de Winter (Charles Dance) proposes to a young woman (Emilia Fox), no one is more surprised than the circle of society friends who learn the intriguing news, especially as his new wife is the opposite of Maxim's first wife, the beautiful Rebecca, who mysteriously died in a tragic drowning accident.

After Maxim takes his new wife back to his home in Cornwall, the ancient and magnificent Manderley, it soon becomes evident that the shadow of Rebecca is all-pervasive, nurtured all the more by the sinister and gothic housekeeper, Mrs. Danvers (Diana Rigg). The new Mrs. de Winter begins to uncover the darkness of the past that taints the present and threatens to haunt her future.

Rebecca will be broadcast on 3-2 Sunday, the 26th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Sunday, the 12th at 8:00 p.m.

In REBECCA, Emilia Fox portrays Mrs. de Winter and Charles Dance stars as Mr. de Winter.

Great Performances—

New York City Ballet in Paris

During the summer of 2016, New York City Ballet made a triumphant return to Paris for a three-week season at the historic Théâtre du Châtelet. The engagement's closing night performance, featuring four ballets by George Balanchine to the music of French composers, is presented as a special two-part Great Performances.

“New York City Ballet in Paris” opens with Walpurgisnacht Ballet, a joyful embodiment of classical choreography, ending with a surging finale that sends 24 ballerinas soaring across the stage.

The second program, “New York City Ballet Symphony in C,” opens with Sonatine, a pas de deux of polished simplicity and emotional interplay to the music of Maurice Ravel. The finale of the two-part special is Balanchine's Symphony in C, performed by more than 50 dancers to a score by Georges Bizet.

Great Performances “New York City Ballet in Paris” will be broadcast on 3-2 Friday, the 17th at 9:00 p.m. and the “New York City Ballet Symphony in C” airs Friday, the 24th at 9:00 p.m. On 3-1, the “New York City Ballet in Paris” can be seen Saturday, the 18th at 8:00 p.m. and the “New York City Ballet Symphony in C” will be broadcast Saturday, the 25th at 9:00 p.m.

City in the Sky

At any given moment, one of the largest cities on earth isn't on Earth—it's the more than 1 million passengers aloft in airplanes. City in the Sky, a new three-part science series, reveals the immense geological forces that could bring our planes down in seconds, the engineering genius that keeps us aloft, and the superlative power of the human minds that have to make knife-edge decisions every minute of every day. You will never look at your time aloft in the same way again.

The series tells the remarkable story of "Departure," from what it takes to get a million people and their luggage off the ground and up in the air to building the world's biggest passenger plane, and from navigating through the busiest airport on the planet to the perils of getting airborne in the coldest city on earth. "Airborne" explores just what it takes to keep this city in the sky safe between take-off and landing—a system of complex global networks and astonishing technology that stretches our ingenuity to the absolute limit.

Finally, "Arrival" explores what it takes to bring the citizens of the sky back to the ground. Viewers sit in the cockpit with one of just 26 pilots in the world qualified to land at Paro, Bhutan. With the city in the sky predicted to double in size in the next 20 years, this last episode also looks at what the future of aviation might look like.

City in the Sky will be broadcast on 3-2 Wednesdays 9:00 p.m. beginning the 8th. On 3-1, it can be seen Wednesdays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 8th and Thursdays at 7:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. beginning the 9th.

[I]NDEPENDENT LENS

TOWER

On August 1st, 1966, a sniper rode the elevator to the top floor of the University of Texas Tower and opened fire, holding the campus hostage for 96 minutes. When the gunshots were finally silenced, the toll included 16 dead, three dozen wounded, and a shaken nation left trying to understand.

"Tower" on Independent Lens reveals the untold stories of the 1966 mass shooting in Austin, Texas—America's first mass school shooting—when the worst in one man brought out the best in so many others.

The untold history of the "Tower" is told through the first-person stories of seven specific characters: two students who were shot, the two police officers who ended the siege, two civilians who provided aid to victims and police, and the radio reporter who broadcast live from the scene for more than an hour and a half and whose broadcast was picked up nationally, bringing the events in Austin to listeners around the nation.

"Tower" on Independent Lens can be seen on 3-2 Tuesday the 14th at 8:00 p.m. On 3-1, it will be broadcast Thursday, the 16th at 8:00 p.m.

AMERICAN EXPERIENCE

Oklahoma City

"Oklahoma City" on American Experience investigates the worst domestic terrorist attack in the U.S. and the anti-government movement that inspired the actions of Timothy McVeigh, including two standoffs with law enforcement with tragic outcomes—Ruby Ridge and the Branch Davidian compound in Waco, Texas.

On April 19th, 1995, Timothy McVeigh, a former soldier deeply influenced by the literature and ideas of the radical right, set off a truck bomb that destroyed the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building, killing 168 people and injuring 675 others.

The film draws upon more than 60 hours of jailhouse interviews with McVeigh, and the stories of survivors, U.S. Marshals, FBI investigators, and others.

"At its heart, 'Oklahoma City' is about the dangers of conspiracy thinking—of each side demonizing and exaggerating the threat posed by the other," said director Barak Goodman. "In this way, it is an extremely timely and relevant cautionary tale for our own times."

American Experience "Oklahoma City" airs on 3-2 Tuesday, the 7th at 8:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 7th at 7:00 p.m., Wednesday, the 8th at 6:00 a.m./1:00 p.m., and Saturday the 11th at 6:00 p.m.

Ruby Ridge

Before the occupation of the refuge in Oregon, before the siege at Waco, before Oklahoma City, there was Ruby Ridge.

Just before dawn on August 21st, 1992, six U.S. Marshals hiked up the steep ridge near the isolated mountaintop cabin of white separatist Randy Weaver in Northern Idaho. Charged with selling two illegal sawed-off shotguns to an undercover agent more than a year earlier, Weaver had failed to appear in court, instead holing up in his cabin with his wife Vicki, three children, and a cache of firearms.

Frustrated by Weaver's defiance, the marshals had intensified their surveillance and strayed ever closer to the cabin itself. On the morning of the 21st, a firefight broke out. Eleven days later, the standoff that mesmerized the nation would leave Weaver injured, his wife and son and a federal agent dead, and many convinced that the federal government was out of control.

"Ruby Ridge" on American Experience is a riveting account of the event that helped give rise to the modern American militia movement.

"Ruby Ridge" on American Experience airs on 3-2 Tuesday, the 14th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 14th at 7:00 p.m., Wednesday, the 15th at 6:00 a.m./1:00 p.m., and Saturday, the 18th at 7:00 p.m.

DIXIE

Featuring newsreels spanning 180 years of U.S. history, Dixie tells the story of the confederate anthem “Dixie’s Land” from its origins as a blackface minstrel tune, through its adoption by segregationists, to its controversial place in modern U.S. society as America’s most dangerous song.

In 1859, a white man named Dan Emmett blackened his face and impersonated an African-American to the strains of his latest song “Dixie’s Land.” The song soon became an anthem for southern states attempting to break free from the U.S. during the Civil War. Later, the song became a tangible way to remember the Old South of prosperity, civility—and chattel slavery.

During the 20th century, segregationists held tightly to the song while African-Americans began protesting the song wherever it was heard. Now, new research has shed light on the possible African-American origins of “Dixie.”

Dixie airs on 3-2 Sunday, the 26th at 10:00 a.m. and Tuesday, the 28th at 10:00 p.m.

THE TALK – Race in America

The Talk – Race in America is a two-hour documentary about the increasingly common conversation taking place in homes and communities across the country between black and Latino parents and their children, especially sons, about how to behave if they are ever stopped by the police.

In many homes, “the talk,” as it is called, usually contains phrases like this: If you are stopped by the police: Always answer “yes sir, no sir”; never talk back; don’t make any sudden movements; don’t put your hands in your pockets; obey all commands; if you think you are falsely accused, save it for the police station. I would rather pick you up at the station than the morgue.

TheTalk presents six stories that illustrate the issue from multiple points of view—parent, child, the police, and the community.

The Talk can be seen on 3-2 Monday, the 20th at 8:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 21st at 8:00 p.m.

Smokey Robinson: Library of Congress Gershwin Prize for Popular Song

A rhythm and blues icon whose career has spanned more than 50 years, Robinson is considered the poet laureate of soul. His velvet falsetto and mastery of lyrical verse have created a tapestry of hits that have transcended generations and become a mainstay in American pop music.

Robinson has released dozens of Top-40 hits and added more than 4,000 songs to his legacy songbook.

Smokey Robinson airs on 3-2 Friday, the 10th at 9:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Saturday, the 11th at 8:00 p.m.

Africa’s Great Civilizations

Africa’s Great Civilizations is the latest three-part documentary by Henry Louis Gates, Jr. In the series, Gates travels throughout Africa as he chronicles a sweeping 200,000-year journey of discovery, showing the complexity and grandeur of the continent’s history from a firmly African perspective. His travels take him from the city of Great Zimbabwe to the pyramids of the Kingdom of Kush in Sudan, from the rock-hewn churches of Ethiopia to Ancient Mali, the empire of King Mansa Musa, still thought to be the wealthiest person ever to have lived.

Beginning deep in the continent’s past with the origins of Homo sapiens and the migration of all of our human ancestors from east Africa, Gates vividly paints a picture of African civilizations—from Ancient Egypt to the end of the 19th century—through their artistic and cultural achievements, their religious practices, and political and social structures. The series dispels the myth that Africa is an underdeveloped region devoid of any profound historical achievements.

Africa’s Great Civilizations airs on 3-2 Monday–Wednesday, the 27th–March 1st at 8:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday–Thursday, the 28th–March 2nd at 7:00 p.m.

Birth of a Movement

Over 100 years after the release of D.W. Griffith’s film, The Birth of a Nation, which depicted the KKK as heroes and African Americans in the most racist caricatures imaginable, the battle to assert African Americans’ rightful place in both civil society and popular culture continues.

“Birth of a Movement” on Independent Lens traces the line between Griffith’s controversial epic and Hollywood’s continued legacy of misrepresentation and negative racial stereotypes.

“Birth of a Movement” recounts the story of the battle waged against the film’s exhibition by a largely forgotten civil rights activist named William Monroe Trotter. Trotter’s battle against the film’s exhibition laid the foundation for the civil rights movement.

Ultimately, Trotter would lose the battle as the film went on to become the first financial blockbuster and established racial stereotyping as a bankable trope. The film is credited with inspiring the rebirth of the Klan which, by the 1920s, was bigger than ever.

“Birth of a Movement” airs on 3-2 Monday, the 6th at 9:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 7th at 9:00 p.m. and Wednesday, the 8th at 8:00 a.m./3:00 p.m.

[I]NDEPENDENT LENS

Accidental Courtesy

Musician Daryl Davis has played all over the world with legends like Chuck Berry and Little Richard, but it’s what Daryl does in his free time that sets him apart: he meets and befriends members of the KKK, many of whom have never met a black person. When some of these people have decided to leave the Klan, they have given Daryl their robes and hoods. He hopes to one day display his collection, each piece representing a person whose life he has touched and changed.

“Accidental Courtesy” on Independent Lens follows Daryl on a trip across the landscape of contemporary America as he meets with neo-Nazi leaders and a new generation of young civil rights activists.

“How can you hate me,” says Daryl, “when you don’t even know me? Throughout my life, I’ve been looking for an answer to that. Who better to ask than someone who would join an organization whose whole premise is hating people who do not look like them?”

“Accidental Courtesy” on Independent Lens can be seen on 3-2 Monday, the 13th at 9:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 14th at 8:00 p.m. and Wednesday, the 15th at 7:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

FIRST NATIONS EXPERIENCE (FNX) is the first and only public TV network in the U.S. dedicated to Native American and World Indigenous content. FNX celebrates Native American, Mexican, Central and South American, Hawaiian, and many other indigenous cultures.

FNX's rich diversity of programming illustrates the healthy, positive, and real lives of indigenous peoples around the world with programs that include drama, comedy, lifestyle, sports, music, art, dance, politics, news, public affairs, cooking, health, animation, fitness, talk shows, nature, gardening, and children's programming. A complete program schedule can be found on the kenw.org website.

FNX airs 24/7 on KENW-TV, Channel 3-4

Like our other over-the-air channels (3-1, 3-2, 3-3), channel 3-4 requires an indoor or outdoor antenna if you live on the eastern side of New Mexico in a community served by one of our digital transmitters (see top of page 9).
