Mark Twain in 1867

88 Days in the Mother Lode: Mark Twain Finds His Voice

In the fall of 1864, just days after his 29th birthday, Samuel Clemens felt that he was a failure. Recently fired from a newspaper job he didn't like anyway, he had failed as a gold miner, a silver miner, a lumber baron, a soldier, and by now he was destitute. He couldn't pay for his room and board and was living off his landlady. He posted $500 bail for a friend, Steve Gillis, with money he didn't have, and Gillis skipped town. Stuck in San Francisco without options, he considered suicide as his only way out.

Jim Gillis, Steve's older brother, offered him a sanctuary. He suggested Clemens join him and fellow gold miners at Gillis' small cabin in the Sierra Nevada foothills. It appealed to Clemens, so the two men took a steamboat from San Francisco to Stockton and then traveled to Gillis' cabin in Jackass Hill, Tuolumne County.

For the next 88 days, the men drank a little, smoked a little, worked a little, mined a little, read a little, and passed the time telling stories. Jim Gillis was an educated man and a great story teller. Clemens sat and listened as Gillis recounted story after hilarious story, which had his small audience in stitches.

On a rainy January day in early 1865, the men entertained themselves at the Angels Hotel in nearby Angels Camp. Clemens heard an interesting story told by one of the bartenders. He jotted a note in his journal as he had done with so many other stories he'd heard. Later that year, he developed that story and it became "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County." Clemens' three month stay in the Sierra Nevada Foothills would help change the course of his life, and he would write about his time there in stories, sketches, and essays for the rest of his life.

This year we celebrate the 150th anniversary of the publication of "The Jumping Frog of Calaveras County" with 88 Days in the Mother Lode: Mark Twain Finds His Voice. Through Mark Twain's own words from his letters home, his short stories, books, and his autobiography, this film tells the story of Samuel Clemens transformation to America's first writer, Mark Twain.

88 Days in the Mother Lode: Mark Twain Finds His Voice airs Friday, 3rd at 9:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 5th at 10:00 p.m. On HD3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 7th at 7:00 p.m., Wednesday, the 8th at 8:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m., and Saturday, the 18th at 9:00 p.m.

NOVA

On July 14th, 2015, the New Horizons spacecraft, one of the most advanced ever built, is scheduled to fly by Pluto to take the very first detailed images of the dwarf planet. After nine years and 3 billion miles, we will finally get a close look at this strange, icy world, but only if the craft can survive the final, treacherous leg of its journey, which could take it through a dangerous field of debris. If it does, New Horizons is poised to make dramatic new discoveries, not just about Pluto, but about the vast realm of icy bodies lurking beyond Neptune, relics of the earliest days of the solar system's formation.

Back on Earth, the planetary scientists who have spent decades working on this mission anxiously await a signal from their spacecraft. Our cameras will be there to witness the moment. If all goes well, "Chasing Pluto" on Nova will reveal Pluto's mysterious surface in unprecedented detail and reveal new secrets about other alien worlds at the far limits of our solar system.

"Chasing Pluto" on Nova airs Wednesday, the 15th at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 18th at 10:00 p.m. On HD3-1, it airs Friday, the 17th at 8:00 p.m., Saturday, the 18th at 11:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 19th at 4:00 p.m.

We're Back! On Dish and DirecTV with Some Disappointment

We are grateful to both Dish and DirecTV for putting us back on their satellite services, and to Nielsen for moving KENW-TV back to the Albuquerque/Santa Fe DMA. DirecTV officially "launched" our station on June 9th and Dish officially "launched" our station on June 10th, 2015.

There is some disappointment, however. DirecTV will not carry our High Definition signal (HD). Even though we are sending them a HD signal, they are down-converting the HD to Standard Definition (SD). This is the only way they said they could carry us.

To make matters worse, we have been told by DirecTV that the only way viewers who watched us in SD before January 1st can once again see us is for them to upgrade to DirecTV's HD service. But despite the upgrade, these viewers will only see a SD picture even though it is on DirecTV's HD service.

There is more. DirecTV has only given us two choices with regard to aspect ratios. The first is "letterbox," with black bars all around the picture. This is bad enough on the newer 16x9 shows, but on older shows that were taped in 4x3, we have to insert black bars down the sides of the picture in order to fill the 16x9 screen. With this, the picture becomes what we call "postage stamp," a small picture in the center of the 16x9 screen.

The second option DirecTV has given us is termed "center cut," in which they take a 16x9 aspect picture that we send them and they chop the sides off to make it a 4x3 ratio. This cuts off some of the picture that viewers would normally see, which sometimes contains vital information.

Neither of these options is appealing, but we are choosing "letterbox" because all of the picture information is shown. Even though the "letter box" aspect is small, viewers can use their tv remote to make the picture fill the screen, if they so choose.

This whole thing doesn't make a lot of sense to us, but at the time of this writing, this is how DirecTV wants to handle the KENW-TV signal. We hope sometime in the not too distant future, DirecTV will put us back on its system the way we were before January 1st.

On the 70th anniversary of the atomic bomb, PBS offers timely, relevant programs that look at history and the human experience.

Uranium: Twisting the Dragon's Tail

Born from the collapse of a star, uranium has brought hope, progress, and destruction. It has revolutionized society, from medicine to warfare. It is an element that has profoundly shaped the past, will change the future, and will exist long after humans have left the Earth.

The year 2015 marks the 70th anniversary of the most profound turning point in the history of human enterprise: the detonation of the atomic bomb and the revelation of the destructive force contained within its primary element, uranium.

Uranium: Twisting the Dragon's Tail, a two-part series, provides a fascinating journey through the complex history of the most controversial substance on Earth. Filmed on five continents, Uranium delivers a gripping story of an ancient element's footprint on the world.

Part science and part history, the story of uranium is brought to life by host and physicist Dr. Derek Muller who embarks on an epic journey across the globe to explain the fascinating details of uranium's birth and longevity. The special follows Muller down mineshafts and across arid deserts, and through the vast silence of an abandoned city resulting from the world's worst nuclear accident. Muller relates how uranium crackles with the violence of creation and shapes life on Earth.

"We are who we are because of uranium," Muller says. "It unlocks the secrets of the universe and reveals the nature of reality. It's both a dream of clean limitless power and a nightmare of a silent, poisoned Earth."

Uranium: Twisting the Dragon's Tail airs (Pt. 1) Tuesday, the 28th at 9:00 p.m. and (Pt. 2) Wednesday, the 29th at 9:00 p.m. On HD3-1, it airs (Pt. 1) Tuesday, the 28th at 7:00 p.m. and Wednesday, the 29th at 8:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. and (Pt. 2) Wednesday, the 29th at 7:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 30th at 8:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

Humanity from Space

Humanity from Space traces humankind's long journey from hunter-gatherer to dominant global species. From the perspective of space, this two-hour special uses mind-boggling data and CGI to disclose the breathtaking extent of humanity's influence, revealing how we've transformed our planet and produced an interconnected world of extraordinary complexity.

A trip through 12,000 years of development, the documentary shows how seemingly small flashes of innovation—innovations that touch all of us in ways unimaginable to our ancestors—have changed the course of civilization. As our global population soars, the program considers the challenges humanity will face in order to survive.

Humanity from Space airs Tuesday, the 21st at 7:00 p.m. On HD3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 21st at 8:00 p.m. and Wednesday, the 22nd at 6:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

THE BOMB

The Bomb tells a powerful story of the most destructive invention in human history, outlining how America developed the nuclear bomb, how it changed the world, and how it continues to loom large in our lives. Through state-of-the-art transfer techniques that have turned recently declassified images into vivid, jaw-dropping footage, viewers witness the raw power and strangely compelling beauty of rare views of above-ground nuclear tests.

The Bomb includes interviews with historians and with men and women who helped build the weapon piece by piece. Audiences also hear from former Secretary of State George Shultz and Secretary of Defense William Perry, who reveal how the bomb was viewed inside government circles, as well as those who hold firsthand memories of seeing the first mushroom clouds fill the skies.

This groundbreaking film provides captivating insights through its masterfully restored footage and its assembly of voices who were there when the atomic age began.

The Bomb airs Tuesday, the 28th at 7:00 p.m. On HD3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 28th at 8:00 p.m. and Wednesday, the 29th at 6:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon.

Nuclear Meltdown Disaster

In "Nuclear Meltdown Disaster," Nova reveals the minute-by-minute story of the Fukushima nuclear crisis—the one you know about, and the one you likely don't, which is the perilously close call at the other Fukushima nuclear power plant a few miles away from the meltdowns.

With unprecedented access inside both Fukushima nuclear power plants, Nova speaks with workers who were there during the harrowing days—a crisis that began as a natural disaster, but was made worse by human beings.

But why did the worst happen at one plant while another that faced nearly identical challenges emerged unscathed? It may come down to the skill and knowledge of one man, who has worked there since they started construction. There are crucial questions as the company that runs both plants, TEPCO, tries to clean up an unprecedented radioactive mess and seeks to reopen the plant that was just barely saved.

"Nuclear Meltdown Disaster" on Nova airs Wednesday, the 29th at 8:00 p.m. On HD3-1, it airs Thursday, the 30th at 11:00 a.m. and Friday, the 31st at 8:00 p.m.

FRONTLINE

Escaping ISIS

“Escaping ISIS” on Frontline features gripping, first-hand accounts of women who escaped the brutal reign of ISIS. This hard-hitting film explores the lives of women who were held as sex slaves, the people who saved them, and women who endured—and also enforced—ISIS’ harsh rules.

“Escaping ISIS” on Frontline will be broadcast Tuesday, the 14th at 10:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 16th at 7:00 p.m. On HD3-1, it airs Wednesday, the 15th at 11:00 a.m. and Friday, the 17th at 9:00 p.m.

Drug Lord: The Legend of Shorty

While his birth certificate may read “Joaquín Archivaldo Guzmán Loera,” to those in law enforcement and the drug game, he’s better known as “Shorty Guzman,” and make no mistake, he is one of the most dangerous criminals in the world.

“Drug Lord: The Legend of Shorty” on Frontline tells the saga of Guzman, the billionaire head of the Sinaloa Cartel in Mexico, the country’s top drug kingpin and the elusive target of a manhunt since he escaped from a maximum-security prison in early 2001 by rolling away in a laundry bin.

Before his recapture in 2014, Shorty, leader of one of the biggest drug cartels in history, had been on the run from the U.S. and Mexican governments for over a decade. During that time, over 80,000 Mexicans have been murdered as a result of narco drug wars.

To some, Guzman is a revolutionary hero and a latter-day Robin Hood, the powerful peasant who looks after his people. To others, he is Public Enemy No. 1, the first since Al Capone.

“Drug Lord: The Legend of Shorty” on Frontline will be broadcast Tuesday, the 21st at 10:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 23rd at 7:00 p.m. On HD3-1, it airs Wednesday, the 22nd at 11:00 a.m. and Friday, the 24th at 9:00 p.m.

OPERATION WILD

Operation Wild explores the pioneering work of veterinarians around the world as they use cutting-edge techniques to try to save the lives of wild animals. The three-part series reveals how human medicine is transforming the way we look after these creatures and how these inventive vets are pushing animal medicine to the limits in some of the most remote places on Earth. But it takes more than just high-tech medicine to treat the biggest animals on the planet.

Across the globe, these are stories of ingenuity, invention, and dedication that include the southwest China giant panda base using human neo-natal techniques to keep baby pandas alive; a rhino vet working with a plastic surgeon in South African to carry out the world’s first rhino skin graft; a team of vets attempting groundbreaking keyhole surgery on an endangered moon bear in Laos; micro-surgery to try to restore sight to an orangutan in Borneo; and a vet in Japan who has invented a prosthetic tail for a dolphin.

Some of the 14 baby panda cubs born this year in China’s world leading panda breeding center in Wolong.

Operation Wild airs Wednesdays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 1st and Saturdays at 11:00 p.m. beginning the 4th. On HD3-1, it airs Wednesdays at 9:00 p.m. beginning the 1st and Thursdays at 6:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon beginning the 2nd.

LIFE ON THE REEF

Life on the Reef is a three-part series that explores the mysteries and hardships of the world’s greatest marine wilderness. The film examines the array of life in and around Australia’s Great Barrier Reef—one of the planet’s most extraordinary and endangered places—and the efforts to protect it.

One of the richest and most complex natural ecosystems on earth, the Great Barrier Reef is home to a stunning array of animals, from microscopic plankton to 100-ton whales.

Amid the fringing reefs, coral cays, and islands of the Torres Strait, the human residents living on the Great Barrier Reef seek to find the critical balance between their needs and those of a diminishing natural world.

Set against a backdrop of extraordinary marine habitats, the series’ three episodes take a breathtaking look at this great natural treasure, above and beneath the waters to see how nature adapts to the changing seasons throughout the year.

Life on the Reef airs Wednesdays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 22nd and Saturdays at 11:00 p.m. beginning the 25th. On HD3-1, it airs Wednesdays at 9:00 p.m. beginning the 22nd and Thursdays at 6:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon beginning the 23rd.

Great Performances

Driving Miss Daisy

The Pulitzer Prize-winning play, “Driving Miss Daisy,” a 2010 hit on Broadway, comes to PBS. The Great Performances presentation stars Angela Lansbury and James Earl Jones as Daisy Werthan and Hoke Colburn, respectively.

Alfred Uhry’s classic play is a timeless, searing, funny, and ultimately hopeful meditation on race relations in America, told through the complex relationship between two of popular culture’s most enduring characters.

When Daisy Werthan, a widowed, 72-year-old Jewish woman living in midcentury Atlanta, is deemed too old to drive, her son hires Hoke Colburn, an African American man, to serve as her chauffeur. What begins as a troubled and hostile pairing, soon blossoms into a profound, life-altering friendship that transcends all the societal boundaries placed between them.

“Driving Miss Daisy” on Great Performances airs Friday, the 17th at 9:00 p.m. On HD3-1, it will be broadcast Saturday, the 18th at 7:00 p.m.

Steven Raichlen's Project Smoke

Smoking is the New Grilling

Grillmaster Steven Raichlen ventures away from classic grilling to explore the rich flavors of smoked food in his new series, Project Smoke.

Showcasing hot and cold smoking, smoke roasting, and "smoke-tisserie" cooking, the series focuses on both traditional and cutting-edge techniques. The recipes are epic: made-from-scratch bacon, pastrami and Sriracha beef jerky; Canadian bacon and smokehouse ham; smoked king salmon; a whole smoked beef tenderloin, and monster double-smoked prime rib.

Raichlen also adds a bit of smoked flair to vegetables, pizza, dessert, eggplant, stovetop smoked salmon, and smoked ice cream.

Steven Raichlen's Project Smoke can be seen Saturdays at 7:30 a.m. beginning the 4th and Mondays at 11:30 a.m. beginning the 6th.

FIXED:

The Science/Fiction of Human Enhancement

From botox to bionic limbs, from improved memory or cognition to the ability to select genetic traits in our offspring, the human body is more "upgradeable" than ever. Fixed: The Science/Fiction of Human Enhancement takes a close look at the drive to be "better than human."

The film explores technologies that promise to change our bodies and minds forever. The possibilities stir the imagination of many, while for others the current research into human enhancement signals alarms of a new eugenics.

While we hear about achievements in helping people with disabilities through various prosthetics and implants, Fixed argues that the real cutting edge in these fields is not approximating "normalcy" but rather in extending human capability. State-of-the-art leg prosthetics, for example, can make someone stronger and faster, while bionic arms with robotic capabilities can do more than human arms. Some foresee a world in which a wide range of people pursue extra-abilities in order to get an edge on the job or in school.

Fixed: The Science/Fiction of Human Enhancement airs Sunday, the 26th at 10:00 a.m. and Monday, the 27th at 9:00 p.m. On HD3-1, it airs Wednesday, the 22nd at 7:00 p.m., Thursday, the 23rd at 8:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m., Wednesday, the 29th at 11:00 a.m., and Friday, the 31st at 9:00 p.m.

POV

Tough Love

"Tough Love" on PBS's POV chronicles the separate journeys of a single father in Seattle and a newly married mother of two in New York City, as they fight to make their families whole again after their children were taken from them due to neglect. The film is an unflinching look at those rarely depicted in mainstream media—parents who love their children and are struggling to reclaim them. In 2012, 78 percent of cases reported to child protective services agencies involved findings of neglect, not abuse.

For the first time the public is privy to the roundtable discussions between social workers and lawyers in the court. Few are aware of the multiple bureaucracies parents must manage and the services that they and their children desperately need to improve their chances of reunification, as well as the remarkable discretion that judges have in defining what makes a parent a parent.

Put under the microscope of child protective services, which parents would pass the test? The film bears witness to the often-overlooked and unappreciated role that social workers, lawyers, and parent advocates play as cases drag on for years.

"Tough Love" on POV airs Monday, the 6th at 9:00 p.m. On HD3-1, it airs Monday, the 6th at 7:00 p.m. and Tuesday, the 7th at 7:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

Web Junkie

China is the first country in the world to classify Internet addiction as a clinical disorder, the cure for which is the subject of POV's "Web Junkie." The film follows the treatment of Chinese teenagers whose preference is for the virtual world over the real one.

Daxing Boot Camp is a three-month military style anti-addiction program in Beijing designed for patients 13 to 18 years old addicted to the Internet. The film reveals the rehabilitation process and the evolving diagnosis behind it.

Parents are often at their wits' end and many must borrow money to pay for the program. Most patients have withdrawn from family life. Some stop bathing and others are so reluctant to take breaks from playing video games that they wear diapers to avoid bathroom trips. As is often the case with other addictions, family disruption and estrangement are common.

Professor Tao Ran, who established the world's first Internet addiction clinic, calls Internet addiction China's most significant public health hazard and claims it has surpassed any other problem. Web junkies are not using the Internet for research and homework. They are instead addicted to games. "They are the same as heroin addicts," he insists.

"Web Junkie" on POV airs Monday, the 13th at 9:00 p.m. On HD3-1, it will be broadcast Monday, the 13th at 7:00 p.m. and Tuesday, the 14th at 7:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

Return to Homs

War changes people, including Abdul Basset Saroot, once the teenage goalkeeper of the Syrian national soccer team, who morphed into a peaceful advocate of Arab Spring reforms and then into an armed opponent of President Bashar al-Assad's regime.

"Return to Homs" on POV chronicles Basset's transformation and heroic struggle to save civilians in his hometown of Homs from annihilation. The film was an underdog winner of Sundance's 2014 World Cinema Grand Jury Prize for Documentary.

Shot between 2011 and 2013, the film provides an unprecedented look at the Syrian regime's war against its own people. It focuses on Basset, 19 at the start of the filming, who was once voted the second best goalkeeper in Asia. Handsome and charismatic, he also has musical talent. His anti-Assad songs do not escape the dictator's attention, and Assad eventually responds to the protests with heavy artillery, tanks, snipers, and fighter jets.

Basset and his colleagues conclude they have no choice but to take up arms. They see colleagues and family members killed and wounded. Despite continuous setbacks and defeats, and food rations that drop to a few olives a day each, the insurgents do not give in. Yet their hope that outsiders will rally to their defense often fades. "The world remains as silent as a graveyard," the fighters lament. "O world, what are you waiting for?"

"Return to Homs" on POV airs Monday, the 20th at 9:00 p.m. On HD3-1, it airs Monday, the 20th at 7:00 p.m. and Tuesday, the 21st at 7:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.
