To Walk Invisible: The Brontë Sisters

Ever since they were revealed to the world as quaint country-women and not the notorious Bell brothers of their pseudonyms, the Brontë sisters have fascinated legions of devoted readers. Masterpiece brings these remarkable literary geniuses to life with a beautifully filmed and acted two-hour drama, “To Walk Invisible: The Brontë Sisters.”

Depicting the evolution of secluded, dutiful clergyman’s daughters into authors of the most controversial fiction of the 1840s, the drama stars Finn Atkins as Charlotte, who shocked society with her edgy epic, Jane Eyre; Chloe Pirrie as Emily, author of the darkly gothic and disturbing Wuthering Heights; and Charlie Murphy as Anne, whose true-to-life love story The Tenant of Wildfell Hall was deemed “coarse and disgusting” by Victorian critics.

Also starring are Jonathan Pryce as their distracted father, Reverend Patrick Brontë; and Adam Nagaitis as the sisters’ only brother, Branwell, whose wild and dissipated life contributed to vivid characters in each of their novels.

“To Walk Invisible” was filmed in and around Haworth, the picturesque Yorkshire village where the Brontë sisters lived and which is now a mecca for Brontëphiles from all over the world. Scenes at their parsonage home were shot in an exact replica that recreates the feel of a lived-in mid-19th-century provincial dwelling, with the sisters congregating around the dining table to pen their stories and plot their editorial strategy.

Based largely on Charlotte’s voluminous letters, the film follows the Brontë sisters in the eventful three-year period that saw them rise from ordinary, unmarried women, taking care of the household and their widowed father, to the secret authors of the world’s most sensational literature.

Although he never suspected it, Branwell was the inspiration. A would-be poet and artist, he was a complete failure due to alcoholism and opium addiction. As Reverend Brontë slowly went blind, Branwell was on an even more precipitous downward slide, inciting the sisters to do something to keep the family out of the poor house.

They had already tried being governesses—a thankless job except it provided good material for novels. So they set about turning personal experiences, keen observations, and unflinching honesty into fiction. Worried that female writers wouldn’t be taken seriously, they adopted male-sounding pseudonyms: Currer Bell for Charlotte, Ellis Bell for Emily, and Acton Bell for Anne, retaining their own initials.

“To Walk Invisible: The Brontë Sisters” on Masterpiece can be seen on 3-2 Sunday, the 26th at 8:00 p.m. and Friday, the 31st at 10:30 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Sunday, the 26th at 7:00 p.m. and Monday, the 27th at 7:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

Perfect 36:

When Women Won the Vote

Of all the battles waged on Nashville’s doorstep, the final throes for the passage of the 19th Amendment were among the most heated, controversial, and colorful. In July of 1920, all eyes were on the Tennessee capital as anti- and pro-suffragists each fought for their vision of a socially evolving United States. Perfect 36: When Women Won the Vote chronicles the dramatic vote to ratify this amendment, and the years of debate about women’s suffrage that preceded it.

On July 17th, 1920, Carrie Chapman Catt, President of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, arrived to spend a few days in Nashville. One more state was needed to ratify the proposed amendment, and that duty rested solely on the shoulders of Tennessee. Catt’s few days dragged into weeks as pro- and anti- suffragists continued to clash in what came to be known as the “War of the Roses.” Those in favor sported yellow roses, while those against wore red.

On August 18th, 1920, the House convened. After two consecutive 48-48 outcomes to table the resolution, it was put to a vote. The votes were neck and neck. At the last minute, 24-year-old freshman representative Harry Burn recalled a letter from his mother received that morning, urging him to “be a good boy” and grant women the right to vote. In spite of wearing a red rose, Burn swung his vote, making Tennessee the deciding 36th state to enable passage of the 19th Amendment.

Perfect 36: When Women Won the Vote airs on 3-2 Saturday, the 11th at 10:30 p.m. and Sunday, the 26th at 9:30 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Monday, the 27th at 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Dorothea Lange:

Grab a Hunk of Lightning

Her celebrated photograph “Migrant Mother” is one of the most recognized and arresting images in the world, a haunting portrait that came to represent the suffering of America’s Great Depression. Yet few know the story, struggles, and profound body of work of the woman behind the camera: Dorothea Lange (1895–1965).

“Dorothea Lange: Grab a Hunk of Lightning” on American Masters explores the life, passions, and uncompromising vision of the influential photographer. Her enduring images document five turbulent decades of American history, including the Great Depression, the Dust

“Migrant Mother” (1936)

Bowl, and World War II Japanese American internment camps.

The two-hour film showcases more than 800 works by Lange, her first husband Maynard Dixon and second husband Paul Schuster Taylor combined, and reveals the camera as Lange’s first muse and the confluence of artists at work and in love.

“Dorothea Lange: Grab a Hunk of Lightning” on American Masters airs on 3-2 Tuesday, the 21st at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Wednesday, the 22nd at 6:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 25th at 7:00 p.m.

While putting an end to war seems beyond humankind's abilities, significant advances have been made in investigating atrocities and attaining justice in postwar eras. Dead Reckoning: War & Justice, an astonishing three-hour series, examines the evolution of postwar justice in investigating genocide, ethnic cleansing, and other atrocities. Each segment reveals the challenges facing investigators, prosecutors, and judges in the years since World War II.

Nuremberg trial of Dr. Karl Brandt, Hitler's doctor and director of Nazi experiments on humans.

Dead Reckoning: War & Justice

Hour one reveals how laws and mechanisms for international justice were created in the wake of war crimes committed by Nazi Germany and Imperial Japan. General Yamashita's conviction for crimes against civilians established a command responsibility doctrine. Then the series examines how the Cold War obstructs postwar justice and how atrocities in conflicts with large civilian tolls—such as Vietnam, Afghanistan, and Guatemala—are concealed. The final hour demonstrates how postwar justice has been revitalized over the past two decades, but is limited in confronting the exponential rise in crimes against civilians—sexual violence and genocide—occurring in the Balkans, Rwanda, Congo, Syria, Sri Lanka, and other countries.

Dead Reckoning: War & Justice, a three-hour series, airs on 3-2 Tuesday, the 28th from 7:00 p.m.–10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Wednesday, the 29th from 6:00 a.m.–9:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.–3:00 p.m., and on Thursday, the 30th from 7:00 p.m.–10:00 p.m.

History Project—

Elizabeth I: Killer Queen

History Project "Elizabeth I: Killer Queen" investigates a centuries old murder mystery! Did a controversial relationship between Elizabeth I and Robert Dudley, 1st Earl of Leicester and one of the Queen's leading statesmen, lead to a savage murder?

Elizabeth I, daughter of Henry VIII and second wife, Anne Boleyn, was crowned in 1559 and reigned as Queen of England for more than 40 years until her death in 1603.

New evidence suggests that Robert Dudley's wife, Amy Robsart, was assassinated so that her husband could be free to marry the Queen. The sudden death of Amy Robsart in September, 1560 sent shock waves through Elizabeth's court and the entire country. Few people thought her death was an accident. Others openly talked of how the Queen and Dudley had conspired to commit the murder.

In "Elizabeth I: Killer Queen," historian Chris Skidmore re-examines the original autopsy that points to foul-play.

"Elizabeth I: Killer Queen" on History Project will be broadcast on 3-2 Sunday, the 5th at 9:30 p.m. and Friday, the 10th at 11:00 p.m. On 3-1, it will be broadcast Monday, the 20th at 7:00 p.m. on KENW-TV.

The Painful Truth

What happens when lives are dramatically torn apart by chronic pain? The Painful Truth takes us behind the headlines of addiction and beyond the controversies of the war on opioids to provide an intimate view of patients' frustrations, setbacks, and goals as they deal with chronic pain.

Patients, who suffer terribly from chronic pain as well as the stigma of using medication to make their lives tolerable, reveal the social barriers and prejudices they face every day. Additionally, the film tells the story of doctors that are persecuted for simply trying to help their patients in the most professional and responsible way they can.

The Painful Truth will be broadcast on 3-2 Thursday, the 2nd at 7:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 5th at 12:00 midnight. On 3-1, it airs Friday, the 3rd at 8:00 p.m.

Is America in Retreat?

Just how deeply should America be entangled in the world's affairs is the focus of Is America in Retreat? What alternatives are there to being the world's policemen? Is there really a downside to retreat? And in the absence of the U.S., how might global order be maintained—or decimated?

Pulitzer Prize-winning columnist Bret Stephens examines these questions facing a nation leaning back toward isolationism.

Is America in Retreat? can be seen on 3-2 Tuesday, the 28th at 10:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 30th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it will be broadcast Friday, the 31st at 9:00 p.m.

Secrets of the Dead Nero's Sunken City

"Nero's Sunken City" on Secrets of the Dead focuses on Baiae, an ancient Roman city lost to the same volcanoes that entombed Pompeii. But unlike Pompeii, Baiae sits under water in the Bay of Naples.

The city was an escape for Rome's rich and powerful elite, a place where they were free of the social restrictions of Roman society. It was the Las Vegas of its day. Now, a team of archaeologists is mapping the underwater ruins and piecing together what life was like in this playground for the rich.

There were vast villas and elaborate spas. Barges floating in the bay were the site of raucous parties. No expense was spared to create a wonderland. Baiae was also the site of some of the most treacherous political dealings of ancient Rome with Emperor Nero and his enemies hatching deadly plots against each other. And then, the city sank into the ocean, to be forgotten in the annals of history until now.

"Nero's Sunken City" looks into what made Baiae such a special place and what actually happened to it.

"Nero's Sunken City" on Secrets of the Dead airs on 3-2 Wednesday, the 29th at 9:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Wednesday, the 29th at 8:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 30th at 7:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

With exclusive access to the Cline estate, the film also includes rare performances of such Cline classics as "Walkin' After Midnight" "Three Cigarettes in an Ashtray," "Come On In," "I Fall to Pieces," "Crazy," "You Made Me Love You," and more.

American Masters "Patsy Cline" will be broadcast on 3-2 Monday, the 6th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1 it can be seen Tuesday, the 7th at 7:00 p.m.

In the coming era, the universe will be completely redefined as a "human universe," radically different from the cold, empty void where human life is barely a speck in the cosmos.

7:00 p.m. THE CRADLE THAT ROCKED:
Rediscovering Marc Blitzstein
Mar 5 The Cradle that Rocked. Composer Blitzstein has been all but forgotten, but in the 1930s he was famous for his political musical, The Cradle Will Rock. Composed by Blitzstein, directed by Orson Wells, and banned by the federal government, the show was an instant hit.
Mar 12 Love and Betrayal. In this story about Marc Blitzstein, we'll hear a story about airplanes and about a Southern Belle. But the most compelling story is how a composer and a student became friends, lovers, rivals, and friends again.
Mar 19 Mack the Knife on Broadway. Composer Blitzstein straddled many genres, from classical to Broadway. He could make text and music marry each other in simple and glorious ways. We'll hear Bob Dylan, Louis Armstrong, and Lotte Lenya talk about Blitzstein's brilliant adaptation of Threepenny Opera. Blitzstein's own songwriting was remarkably focused and spare, pared down to the most basic elements yet with fiery results.

Mar 26 Anarchists at the Opera. Composer Blitzstein wrote politically engaged music all of his life. In the early 1960s, he was commissioned to write an opera for the Met in New York about Sacco and Vanzetti. Immensely controversial, this opera about anarchists was cut short by his murder in Martinique.
