AMERICAN EPIC

Go inside one of the greatest-ever untold stories: how the ordinary people of America were given the opportunity to make records for the first time. American Epic, a three-part film narrated by Robert Redford, melds space, time, and technology to reveal the raw roots of American music.

Tracing the odyssey of the first recording teams, from the gritty streets of Memphis to the Texas plains and the islands of Hawaii, American Epic captures the breathtaking variety and excitement of their discoveries. Musicians featured include Jack White, Nas, Taj Mahal, The Carter Family, Mississippi John Hurt, the Memphis Jug Band, Elder J.E. Burch, Dick Justice, Charley Patton, Son House, Joseph Kekuku, Lydia Mendoza, and the Cajun Breaux Family.

Part one begins at the height of the Roaring Twenties, as music scouts armed with cutting-edge recording technology set out across America to capture the unknown voices of everyday folk. The recordings they made captured the country's diversity—artistically, ethnically, geographically, and economically. As told by music pioneers, their families, and eyewitnesses, travel back in time to the "Big Bang" of modern popular music with the Carter Family, Will Shade, and the Memphis Jug Band. Everyday Americans heard their own music for the first time, pure and unadulterated—a democratic revolution that would reverberate around the world.

"Blood and Soil" travels from the sanctified shout of the gospel church to the coal mines of West Virginia to the cotton fields of Mississippi, where music provided relief from tough lives and hard times. New rhythms were born in the echoes of stomping feet, the bite of pick-axes, and the ambling gait of tired mules.

In "Out of the Many, the One," exotic cultures spanning America are captured on record for the first time—inventing new instruments and new cultural identities as disparate voices harmonize in a musical melting pot. The myriad threads of America's musical tapestry include Hopi priests traveling to Washington to defend their sacred snake dance; an 11-year-old Hawaiian boy who invents the steel guitar; the fightingest frères on the bayou turning a lament for a pretty blonde into the Cajun national anthem; and a gentle Delta farmer who sings a nostalgic song of his hometown and inspires the greatest rediscovery of the '60s folk revival.

American Epic airs on 3-2 Tuesdays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 16th and Thursdays at 10:00 p.m. beginning the 18th. On 3-1, it airs Tuesdays at 9:00 p.m. beginning the 16th and Wednesdays at 8:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. beginning the 17th.

Plants Behaving Badly

Plants Behaving Badly, a two-part series narrated by David Attenborough, takes an in-depth look at the intriguing behavior of orchids and carnivorous plants that present a world of deceit and treachery worthy of any fictional thriller.

When carnivorous plants were first discovered they caused uproar in the scientific world. The great botanist of the 18th century, Carl Linnaeus, pronounced the idea that they ate insects blasphemous, that it went against the way God had ordered the world. More than a century later another great naturalist, Charles Darwin, would prove him wrong.

Darwin worked on many kinds of carnivorous plants and what he discovered both astounded and frightened him. Here were plants that behaved more like animals! Today we are still finding new surprises in the world of carnivorous plants. The film travels from the swamps of the southern US, to remote, isolated mountains rising above the rainforests of South America, and from Borneo to South Africa searching out the latest astounding discoveries.

Plants Behaving Badly concludes with "Sex & Lies." Charles Darwin's book On the Origin of Species shook the scientific world and far beyond. Yet it was his next book, devoted entirely to orchids, which filled in gaps and firmed up his revolutionary ideas. Orchids have an ethereal beauty, whether growing hundreds of feet up in a misty rainforest or along the verges of suburban roads. But their exotic flowers are shaped for just one purpose—to draw in pollinators. Many use sex as a lure, by impersonating a female bee or wasp.

Plants Behaving Badly can be seen on 3-2 Wednesdays at 9:00 p.m. beginning the 3rd. On 3-1, it airs Wednesdays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 3rd and Thursdays at 7:00 a.m. beginning the 4th.

This fragile-looking orchid, Queen Victoria's dendrobium, is tougher than it looks.

KING CHARLES III

The hit Broadway show “King Charles III” comes to Masterpiece. A 2016 Tony nominee for Best Play, “King Charles III” imagines Prince Charles’ ascension to the throne following Queen Elizabeth’s death. Lauded by the New York Times as a “flat-out brilliant portrait of a monarch in crisis,” the play was critically acclaimed in London and New York.

The two-hour adaptation on Masterpiece stars members of the Broadway cast and reunites the Tony-nominated creative team behind the play: Writer Mike Bartlett (who adapts from his own script—daringly written in blank verse) and Director Rupert Goold.

“King Charles III” on Masterpiece will be broadcast on 3-2 Sunday, the 14th at 8:00 p.m. and Friday, the 19th at 11:00 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Sunday, the 14th at 7:00 p.m. and Monday, the 15th at 7:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

(LtoR) Tim Pigott-Smith stars in “King Charles III” and Joanne Froggatt portrays Victorian serial poisoner Mary Ann Cotton in “Dark Angel,” both specials premiering on MASTERPIECE.

DARK ANGEL

Joanne Froggatt, who stole the hearts of millions of viewers as Anna, the loving and resilient lady’s maid on Downton Abbey, stars in a totally different role in a spine-tingling two-hour drama on Masterpiece. Dispensing death from the spout of a warm teapot, Froggatt plays the notorious Victorian poisoner Mary Ann Cotton, in “Dark Angel.”

Inspired by the book Mary Ann Cotton: Britain’s First Female Serial Killer by noted criminologist David Wilson, “Dark Angel” dramatizes the events that drew a troubled woman ever deeper into a career of casual murder, while her loved ones and friends, who were also her victims, never suspected a thing.

Born in North East England in 1832, a child of the coal fields, Mary Ann Cotton grew up in poverty with the dream of escaping the hard life of a miner’s family, a goal she came tantalizingly close to achieving. Her chosen means were her good looks, sexual allure, and the dirty secret of nineteenth-century suspicious deaths—arsenic. Tasteless and easily disguised in a cup of tea, it mimicked the symptoms of two of the major public health scourges of the day: typhoid fever and cholera.

Female serial killers are so rare that criminologists continue to debate what makes them tick. Is it a thirst for power, a desire for material gain, or a sadistic delight in undermining gender stereotypes when they ask, “Why don’t I make you a nice cup of tea?”

“Dark Angel” on Masterpiece can be seen on 3-2 Sunday, the 21st at 8:00 p.m. and Friday, the 26th at 11:00 p.m. On 3-1, it will be broadcast Sunday, the 21st at 7:00 p.m. and Monday, the 22nd at 7:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

Audubon

Audubon explores the extraordinary figure of John James Audubon. A self-taught painter and ornithologist, he left a legacy of art and science that made him famous in his lifetime and endures to this day. His portrait hangs in the White House, his statue stands over the entrance to the American Museum of Natural History, and his name was adopted by the nation’s first conservation organization.

More than 100 books have been written about him, yet the story of John James Audubon has never been told on screen. Filmed in all of the major locations that Audubon explored himself, from Newfoundland and Texas to Key West and Montana, this documentary brings to life Audubon’s timeless paintings with stunning footage of the living birds he immortalized.

Audubon can be seen on 3-2 Sunday, the 7th at 10:00 p.m. and Tuesday, the 9th at 8:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 9th at 9:00 p.m. and Wednesday, the 10th at 8:00 a.m.

Birding has become the 2nd most popular outdoor hobby in the U.S. after gardening. There are 47+ million backyard and “away from home” bird enthusiasts in the U.S. There are 1,154 different species of migratory birds in North America, 37% of which are threatened by habitat loss—making awareness and conservation more important than ever. In 2010, a full-sized, complete first edition of John James Audubon’s The Birds of America sold for approximately $11.5 million, making it the third highest price ever paid for a printed book at auction.

Victorian Slum House

Victorian Slum House, a five-part series, travels back to the British slums of the 1800s, where a group of modern day families, couples, and individuals recreate life in London’s East End as their forbearers once lived between 1860-1900.

Faced with the virtually impossible task of earning enough money to pay the rent and put food on the table, the participants experience first-hand the tough living and working conditions endured by the millions that made up the urban poor in Victorian Britain. It’s an eye-opening experience for the participants as they each confront the harsh realities of the past and together lay the groundwork for welfare reform in the 20th Century.

[I]NDEPENDENT LENS

National Bird

"National Bird" on Independent Lens follows the dramatic journey of three whistleblowers determined to break the silence around one of the most controversial issues of our time: the secret U.S. drone war. Plagued by guilt over participating in the killing of faceless people in foreign countries, each decides to speak out, regardless of the consequences.

"National Bird" explores the difficult circumstances faced by military personnel involved with combat drones, the use of which has transformed modern warfare. Missions are highly classified and there are no official counts of military or civilian casualties. The need for operators and intelligence analysts is increasing, yet their experiences and perspectives have been largely neglected because of their distance from the battlefield.

Pilots and analysts observe air strikes live and in detail, including the aftermath, when survivors pick up human remains for burial. Yet due to the secrecy of their positions, they are prohibited from discussing details of their experiences with anyone—even their psychiatrists. For some veterans these constraints are too much to handle.

The program weaves together the stories of two groups separated by thousands of miles: those involved in drone warfare and survivors and family members of those impacted by lethal drones. The film's haunting images bring a far-away issue close to home.

"National Bird" on Independent Lens will be broadcast on 3-2 Monday, the 1st at 9:00 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Sunday, 7th at 9:00 p.m.

Farmer/Veteran

Premiering on Memorial Day, "Farmer/Veteran" on Independent Lens tells the story of Alex Sutton.

Home from three combat tours in Iraq, Alex forges a new identity as a farmer, hatching chicks and raising goats on 43 acres in rural North Carolina. He dives into life on the farm with his new love Jessica, but cannot shake the lingering traumas of war. The stories he tells about his battlefield experiences seem unmoored from reality as he oscillates between states of heightened awareness and "feeling zombified" from a cocktail of prescriptions meant to keep him stable.

For the viewer, as for Alex, what to believe about his past is uncertain. The farm becomes a terrain to unearth what is buried, what it really means to be "the perfect soldier," and where to go from here.

"Farmer/Veteran" on Independent Lens can be seen on 3-2 Monday, the 29th at 9:00 p.m. On 3-1, the program will air Sunday, June 4th at 9:00 p.m.

NATIONAL MEMORIAL DAY CONCERT

Sunday, May 28th, 2017, marks the 28th annual broadcast of the National Memorial Day Concert, bringing us together as one family of Americans to honor the service and sacrifice of our men and women in uniform, military families, and all those who have given their lives for our country.

The concert features acclaimed actors Joe Mantegna and Gary Sinise and an all-star lineup of actors and musicians (to be announced) along with top pops conductor Jack Everly and the National Symphony Orchestra.

Show segments include a tribute to the last surviving member of the Doolittle Raiders, who flew the daring bombing mission that launched the U.S. invasion of Japan after Pearl Harbor; the story of the sacrifices made by Captain Luis Avila and his wife, Claudia, as they courageously face life-changing injuries incurred from an IED bomb blast; and the healing journey of a Gold Star family from the Vietnam era who reach out to support grieving families from recent conflicts.

This tribute to our military airs live from the West Lawn of the U.S. Capitol before an audience of hundreds of thousands, a broadcast audience of millions, and to our troops around the world via American Forces Network.

The National Memorial Day Concert airs on 3-2 Sunday, the 28th at 7:00 p.m. and again at 9:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Sunday, the 28th at 6:00 p.m. and Monday, the 29th at 6:00 a.m.
