THE VIETNAM WAR

The epic story of one of the most divisive and controversial events in American history.

The Vietnam War is a 10-part, 18-hour documentary film series directed by Ken Burns and Lynn Novick. An immersive 360-degree narrative, the series tells the epic story of the Vietnam War as it has never before been told on film. The Vietnam War features testimony from nearly 80 witnesses, including many Americans who fought in the war and others who opposed it, as well as Vietnamese combatants and civilians from both the winning and losing sides.

“The Vietnam War was a decade of agony that took the lives of more than 58,000 Americans,” Burns said. “Not since the Civil War have we as a country been so torn apart. There wasn’t an American alive then who wasn’t affected in some way—from those who fought and sacrificed in the war, to families of service members and POWs, to those who protested the war in open conflict with their government and fellow citizens. More than 40 years after it ended, we can’t forget Vietnam, and we are still arguing about why it went wrong, who was to blame and whether it was all worth it.”

Ten years in the making, the series brings the war and the chaotic epoch it encompassed viscerally to life. It includes rarely seen, digitally re-mastered archival footage from sources around the globe, photographs taken by some of the most celebrated photojournalists of the 20th century, historic television broadcasts, evocative home movies, and revelatory audio recordings from inside the Kennedy, Johnson, and Nixon administrations.

The series also features more than 120 popular songs that define the era, including tracks from The Beatles, The Rolling Stones, Bob Dylan, Jimi Hendrix, Simon & Garfunkel, Janis Joplin, Ben E. King, Johnny Cash, Buffalo Springfield, The Byrds, Otis Redding, Santana, Joni Mitchell, The Temptations, Pete Seeger, and more.

The Vietnam War airs on 3-2 Sunday through Thursday, 17th–21st (Pts. 1-5) and Sunday through Thursday, 24th–28th (Pts. 6–10) at 8:00 p.m. with an encore presentation immediately following each episode. On 3-1, the series can be seen the same evenings, beginning at 7:00 p.m. with a repeat broadcast the next afternoon at 2:00 p.m. Episodes 1, 2, 5, and 6 are 90 minutes; all others are two hours in length.

The Vietnam War will re-air, one episode per week, beginning in October.

The Vietnam War Episodes

Sunday, 9/17 – Episode 1 – “Déjà Vu” (1858–1961) Vietnam is divided in two, with Communists in the north who aim to reunify the country, while America supports Ngo Dinh Diem’s untested regime in the south.

Monday, 9/18 – Episode 2 – “Riding the Tiger” (1961–1963) President Kennedy wrestles with how deeply to get involved in South Vietnam as the increasingly autocratic Diem regime faces a growing communist insurgency.

Tuesday, 9/19 – Episode 3 – “The River Styx” (January 1964–December 1965) With South Vietnam in chaos, Hanoi sends combat troops to the south. Fearing Saigon’s collapse, President Johnson escalates America’s military commitment.

Wednesday, 9/20 – Episode 4 – “Resolve” (January 1966–June 1967) Defying American airpower, North Vietnamese troops stream down the Ho Chi Minh Trail into the south as an antiwar movement builds back home.

Thursday, 9/21 – Episode 5 – “This is What We Do” (July 1967–December 1967) American casualties mount as Marines face deadly North Vietnamese ambushes and artillery. Johnson reassures the American public that victory is in sight.

Sunday, 9/24 – Episode 6 – “Things Fall Apart” (January 1968–July 1968) On the eve of the Tet holiday, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces launch surprise attacks throughout the south. Johnson decides not to run again.

Monday, 9/25 – Episode 7 – “The Veneer of Civilization” (June 1968–May 1969) Public support for the war declines, and American men of draft age face wrenching moral choices. Richard Nixon wins the presidency.

Tuesday, 9/26 – Episode 8 – “The History of the World” (April 1969–May 1970) President Nixon begins withdrawing American troops. News breaks of an unthinkable massacre committed by American soldiers.

Wednesday, 9/27 – Episode 9 – “A Disrespectful Loyalty” (May 1970–March 1973) Nixon announces Hanoi has agreed to a peace deal. American prisoners of war will finally come home—to a bitterly divided country.

Thursday, 9/28 – Episode 10 – “The Weight of Memory” (March 1973–Onward) The Watergate scandal rivets Americans’ attention and forces President Nixon to resign. Hundreds of thousands of North Vietnamese troops pour into the south as Saigon collapses.

Abacus: Small Enough to Jail

One of the past year's most critically acclaimed documentaries during its robust international film festival run, "Abacus: Small Enough to Jail" on Frontline tells the underreported story of the only U.S. bank prosecuted in relation to the 2008 financial crisis. It is the saga of the Sung—a Chinese-American family who own and operate Abacus Federal Savings in New York's Chinatown.

At the time of the trial, Abacus was the 2,651st largest bank in the United States. Its founder, Thomas Sung—who sees himself in the image of George Bailey from It's a Wonderful Life—says he started it with the goal to empower the local community and offer a personal alternative to big banks.

Thomas Sung

But in 2009, the Sung's fired a loan officer after they discovered fraud. They reported the fraud to law enforcement, but soon found themselves and the bank under scrutiny. Two-and-a-half-years later, Abacus Federal Savings and two senior officers were accused of mortgage fraud by the Manhattan District Attorney's Office, becoming the only U.S. bank prosecuted after the 2008 financial crash and the first bank indicted in New York since 1991.

With riveting detail, "Abacus: Small Enough to Jail" follows how the indictment and subsequent trial forces the Sung family to defend themselves—and their bank's legacy in the Chinatown community—over the course of a five-year legal battle.

Frontline examines the case against the bank, hearing from prosecutors, jurors, defense lawyers, and Mr. and Mrs. Sung and their four daughters, who were filmed for more than a year as they fought to clear their names. The result is a dramatic, 90-minute documentary that The New York Times calls "a classic underdog tale," and The Hollywood Reporter calls "both an affirmation and an indictment of the American Dream."

"Abacus: Small Enough to Jail" on Frontline airs on 3-2 Tuesday, the 12th at 10:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 14th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Friday, the 15th at 9:00 p.m.

Tolkien & Lewis:

Myth, Imagination & the Quest for Meaning

On a dreary September evening in 1931, C.S. Lewis, J.R.R. Tolkien, and their friend and fellow scholar, Hugo Dyson, met for dinner and debate in Lewis's Magdalen College dormitory in Oxford, England. Lewis's transformation from atheist to theist to Christian was based on the insights of Tolkien and Dyson as they engaged in deep conversation about mythology, reality, ritual, imagination, and faith. The discussion in that room is at the heart of Tolkien & Lewis: Myth, Imagination & the Quest for Meaning.

The film explores the fundamental characteristics of myth, with an emphasis on how it impacts our lives: What traits are common among various cultures and faiths? How does myth inspire the imagination, especially the imaginative process of Tolkien and Lewis? In what ways does faith play into the fantasy and fictional works of Lewis and Tolkien?

Tolkien & Lewis: Myth, Imagination & the Quest for Meaning airs on 3-2 Monday, the 4th at 9:00 p.m., Sunday, the 10th at 10:00 a.m., and Thursday, the 28th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Sunday, the 24th at 9:00 p.m. and Tuesday, the 26th at 7:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

Ireland's Great Hunger and the Irish Diaspora

Why did over a million people die of starvation and disease, and more than two million more leave Ireland during roughly six years in the mid-1800s? The label "potato famine" doesn't begin to explain a crisis that was hundreds of years in the making, and one that happened in the midst of plenty.

Ireland's Great Hunger and the Irish Diaspora explores not just the potato failure that led to mass starvation, eviction, disease, death, and emigration in Ireland from 1845 to 1852, but the historical, social, and political circumstances that made what is misleadingly called the great "famine" almost inevitable.

The film views the history of An Gorta Mòr—the Great Hunger—partly through the eyes of descendants of those who survived it, as well as descendants of those who fled Ireland through the Canadian quarantine station at Grosse Ile, Quebec in 1847, and those whose maternal ancestors emigrated to Australia under the Earl Grey scheme, 1849-1852. The documentary features the voices of several leading scholars of Irish history.

Ireland's Great Hunger and the Irish Diaspora airs on 3-2 Sunday, the 3rd at 10:00 a.m., Thursday, the 21st at 7:00 p.m., and Friday, the 29th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Monday, the 18th at 7:00 a.m.

Martin Luther The Idea that Changed the World

On October 31, 1517, a penniless monk named Martin Luther posted his now famous diatribe denouncing the corruption of the medieval world's largest and most powerful institution. His forerunners had been burned alive for similar statements, but Luther had a new tool at his disposal—the recently invented printing press.

Martin Luther: The Idea that Changed the World chronicles the real life story of the seismic upheaval that rocked the western world in the early 1500s. Against all odds, a lonely outcast stood up to the world's dominant superpower—the Catholic Church—and won. It was a battle of ideas that formed Western society as we know it today, sparking the rise of individualism, universal education, religious freedom, and new roles for church and state.

Narrated by Hugh Bonneville (Downton Abbey), this highly-visual two-hour docudrama uses full-scale dramatizations to tell a great adventure story. With treacherous intrigue, outsized personalities, and famous showdowns, it does not shy away from the darker side of Martin Luther's story.

Martin Luther: The Idea that Changed the World can be seen on 3-2 Tuesday, the 12th at 7:00 p.m., Sunday, the 17th at 10:00 a.m., and Friday, the 22nd at 9:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Wednesday, the 13th at 7:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 14th at 7:00 a.m.

F. S. Key: After the Song

F. S. Key: After the Song is a three-part series about Francis Scott Key's life—after he wrote “The Star-Spangled Banner” in 1814—when he was an ambitious political operative and defender of the slavery system. The series is a window into antebellum society and the attitudes and behavior of Americans about slavery that led to Civil War and in some ways still exist to this day.

Part one, “The Era of Good Feelings,” starts after Jackson's battle of New Orleans and is a primer on early slavery. “Might Versus Right” centers on Key's change in character and his involvement in the Jackson Administration. “Absolute Power Corrupts Absolutely” shows how Key goes head-to-head with abolitionists' ideas—and loses.

Gary L. Sandy as President Andrew Jackson

Re-creations focus on comments about Key's life from 13 historical characters, including his wife Mary Tayloe Lloyd Key; President Andrew Jackson; Edgar Allan Poe, and others.

F. S. Key: After the Song airs on 3-2 Sundays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 10th and Sundays at 10:00 a.m. beginning the 24th. On 3-1, it airs Tuesdays at 9:00 p.m. beginning the 12th and Wednesdays at 7:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. beginning the 13th.

Death Dive to Saturn

Cassini, the nuclear-powered spacecraft that was launched toward Saturn in 1997 has been documenting the planet and its breathtaking rings and mysterious moons ever since. But all good things must come to an end. And for NASA's $3.26 billion probe, that day is Friday, September 15, 2017.

During that same week, Nova presents “Death Dive to Saturn,” a suspenseful ride during Cassini's final hours as it attempts one last daring maneuver—to dive between Saturn and its innermost ring and record as much new data as possible before it disintegrates in a blaze of glory like a meteor. This final move is to make certain that the spacecraft, running low on maneuvering fuel, doesn't drift around the Saturn system and accidentally crash into and contaminate a nearby moon that may harbor alien life.

Several spacecraft have flown past Saturn, revealing the rings as trillions of ice particles and snowballs, most the size of your fist or your head, that are orbiting the planet's equator in the largest and flattest single structure in the solar system. Backyard astronomers can pick out these gleaming rings with a medium-sized telescope.

“Death Dive to Saturn” on Nova airs on 3-2 Wednesday, the 13th at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 16th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Thursday, the 14th at 4:00 p.m., Friday, the 15th at 8:00 p.m., Saturday, the 16th at 11:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 17th at 4:00 p.m.

OSIRIS-REx: Countdown to Launch

Sitting on an asteroid, more than 100 million miles away, are a few ounces of soil scientists are anxiously awaiting to get their hands on—a sample that just might contain the molecular precursors to the origin of life. Just how will these scientists accomplish this?

OSIRIS-REx: Countdown to Launch follows a team of scientists and engineers as they struggled to design, construct, and deliver the OSIRIS-REx spacecraft to NASA in time for its September 8, 2016 launch.

OSIRIS-REx: Countdown to Launch will be broadcast on 3-2 Sunday, the 3rd at 9:30 p.m. and Sunday, the 17th at 6:30 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Wednesday, the 6th at 8:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 7th at 7:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

OSIRIS-REx, short for Origins, Spectral Interpretation, Resource Identification, Security-Regolith Explorer, is expected to travel hundreds of millions of miles to rendezvous with an asteroid named Bennu in 2018, whose diameter is less than half a mile. It will then use its suite of instruments to gather at least a 2 ounce soil sample from the asteroid's surface, traveling hundreds of millions of miles more and a total of six years to bring that sample back to Earth in 2023.

OSIRIS-REx: Countdown to Launch will be broadcast on 3-2 Sunday, the 3rd at 9:30 p.m. and Sunday, the 17th at 6:30 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Wednesday, the 6th at 8:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 7th at 7:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

Beak and Brain: Genius Birds from Down Under

The term “birdbrain” generally isn't used as a compliment, but in Beak and Brain: Genius Birds from Down Under, we meet the feathered prodigies whose smarts defy stereotypes.

This memorable hour-long documentary investigates two of the cleverest creatures in the animal kingdom: the humorous, agile keas of New Zealand and the steadfast, patient crows of New Caledonia.

Keas, the only species of parrots that live in a snowy, mountainous region, enjoy solving puzzles and dismantling small objects. Thousands of miles north in the archipelago of New Caledonia, talented crows produce sets of tools—each of which serves a particular purpose.

In the ultimate avian I.Q. test, Beak and Brain determines which of these species is the smartest—with some funny and surprising results.

Beak and Brain: Genius Birds from Down Under can be seen on 3-2 Wednesday, the 20th at 7:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 23rd at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Thursday, the 21st at 7:00 a.m. and 9:00 p.m.

The Head of Joaquin Murrieta

For over a decade, filmmaker John J. Valadez searched for the remains of Joaquin Murrieta, a legendary Mexican outlaw who blazed a trail of revenge across California following the theft of his land and the rape and murder of his wife.

Murrieta was killed by bounty hunters and decapitated in the summer of 1853. A hundred and sixty-two years later, Valadez believes he has found Murrieta's head. He embarks on a quixotic, cross-country road trip through history, myth, and memory to bury the fabled head. Along the way, Valdez discovers chilling parallels with his own family story.

In The Head of Joaquin Murrieta, Valadez works with a team of leading historians from across the country. The film presents a dissenting view of American history from a decidedly Chicano perspective. Deeply personal and irreverent, it tears open a painful and long ignored historical trauma that has never been explored on American television: the lynching of Mexican Americans in the west.

The Head of Joaquin Murrieta airs on 3-2 Thursday, the 14th at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday, the 24th at 6:30 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Monday, the 18th at 8:30 p.m.

Richard M. Sherman Songs of a Lifetime

Richard M. Sherman Songs of a Lifetime is a heart-warming visit with one of America's legendary tunesmiths whose songs transcend generations and are beloved the world over. The special showcases the incomparable musical talents of composer/lyricist Richard M. Sherman, highlighting nearly 60 years of popular songs, many written in collaboration with his late brother, Robert B. Sherman.

The brothers became staff songwriters for Disney after writing several songs that were hits for Annette Funicello, one of the original Mouseketeers. They co-wrote the most repeated song ever written, "It's a Small World (After All)," for the Disneyland attraction of the same name.

Stories of a Lifetime features Sherman at the piano as he performs and shares the stories behind many of the timeless tunes of the Sherman brothers songbook, plus many of his own compositions. Sherman is joined by Broadway star Ashley Brown, acclaimed stage performer Juliana Hansen, The Barbershop Quartet, and others—all singing some of his more recognizable songs. From "Mary Poppins," Sherman songs include "Chim Chim Cher-ee," Disney's own favorite "Feed the Birds," "Supercalifragilisticexpialidocious," and "A Spoonfull of Sugar."

This delightful one-of-a-kind musical showcase reveals how the songs of the Sherman brothers have been a part of the soundtrack of our lives.

Richard M. Sherman Songs of a Lifetime can be seen on 3-2 Sunday, the 3rd at 7:00 p.m., Tuesday, the 26th at 7:00 p.m., and Friday, the 29th at 9:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 5th at 7:00 p.m., Wednesday, the 6th at 1:00 p.m., Saturday, the 9th at 9:00 p.m., and Monday, the 18th at 8:00 a.m.

Christopher Kimball's Milk Street Television

The world of home cooking is undergoing a revolution with new tastes, flavors, techniques, and influences. Christopher Kimball's Milk Street Television, a new 13-part series, wants to change how Americans cook by bringing home a fresher, bolder, simpler way of preparing food.

Chris and his test cooks search the world over looking for the best recipes, and finding home cooks who can teach better ways to prepare a meal at home.

The first season includes 40 all-new recipes, such as Central Mexican guacamole, Thai fried rice, Peruvian pesto, Japanese fried chicken, lemon-buttermilk pound cake, and more. Chris also shares tips and techniques designed to make home cooking easier, like how to make foolproof egg whites and a foolproof, single-crust pie dough.

Christopher Kimball's Milk Street Television airs on 3-2 Tuesdays, 11:00 a.m. beginning the 12th and Saturdays at 8:00 a.m. beginning the 16th. On 3-1, it airs Thursdays at 12:00 noon beginning the 14th.

Buddies —

How Dogs Discovered Man

No animal reflects human social changes as much as the dog. For millennia, dogs have served as mankind's hunting buddies, vital companions in our struggle for survival. But today's increasingly civilized world forces modern dogs to abandon their first instincts, serving as replacement children or partners for alienated urbanites, diagnosing cancer, or sniffing for drugs. We have forgotten what it actually means to be a dog, a hunter.

Buddies—How Dogs Discovered Man looks back at this part of our cultural history, and asks what we have given up and gained as our relationship with dogs has changed.

Starring five different hunting dogs, we follow them in real life situations seen from the dogs' perspective. Each episode is associated with a specific period in hunting history, when each dog breed was supremely adapted to the tasks and skills required.

Buddies takes a closer look at dog and man, nature and culture—a cinematic cross-over appealing not just to hunters and dog lovers, but to anyone interested in the history and development of humankind.

Buddies—How Dogs Discovered Man will be broadcast on 3-2 Monday, the 11th at 9:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 30th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Thursday, the 28th at 7:00 a.m. and 9:00 p.m.

- * More than 1 in 4 New Mexico high school students are overweight or obese.
- * According to pediatrician Dr. Sylvia Negrete, "If we continue on this trend, kids of today will not outlive their parents."
- * The projected cases of obesity related heart disease by 2030 in New Mexico will affect a staggering 559,598 people.

Big Healthy Life is designed to help youth and parents understand the lifelong effects of nutrition and exercise habits on New Mexico's youth and how they relate to becoming overweight or obese. The program highlights how healthy eating and daily exercise can increase lifetime health and decrease spending on health issues in later life. It also examines the various ways that small changes in shopping and daily activity by parents and youth can turn in to very big results.

"With a national attention on health care, one thing that we can do as a community and with families is start our children off at a healthy weight," said Producer/Director Chris Schueler. "As you look at the factors to long term health, obesity and overweight issues can and should be addressed early on."

According to Dr. Monique Vallabhan of the Healthy and Fit Children's Clinic at Carrie Tingly Hospital, "Once you become overweight and obese, your body establishes this point for you, called the set point. And even if you lose weight or get to a healthier weight, your body will constantly be trying to get back to that set point. So we want to try to prevent that, starting with our children at the youngest age that we can."

Big Healthy Life can be seen on 3-2 Wednesday, the 6th at 9:00 p.m. and Tuesday, the 19th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 12th at 7:00 p.m., Wednesday, the 13th at 3:00 p.m., and Friday, the 22nd at 9:00 p.m.

Painting the Falls of Yellowstone

— A breathtaking look at some of the most stunning and unique waterfalls in the Park

Artists Thomas Moran and Albert Bierstadt first captured the magnificence and mystique of a few falls in the 1870s. Over the last several decades, over 250 named and unnamed waterfalls and cascades have been discovered in accessible and backcountry areas of the Park. Their discovery prompted internationally renowned artist M.C. “Mike” Poulsen to try and capture these waterfalls on canvas.

Poulsen’s work depicts not only the beauty of the falls, but incorporates Native American history and spiritual themes, wildlife, and the settlement history of the area.
