3rd Quarter 2018

Weekly 60 minute program produced by KSFR in Santa Fe, NM
Broadcast each Monday afternoon at 3 p.m. on KENW-FM

- 7/2/2018 The first place that Russia used fake news to manipulate foreign populations was uncovered was in Ukraine. Todd Helmus, of the RAND Corporation, led a study team to detail what the Russian trolls were doing and how they did it. He'll tell us what his team found and how they did it.
- 7/9/2018 We talk with Zoe Carpenter of The Nation about President Trump's "zero tolerance" policy toward migrants from south of our border. She visited the ICE intake center at McAllen, TX, a place detractors call "The Dog Kennel." You'll hear where that dog tag came from.
- 7/16/2018 Almost every corporation tries to present a pretty face to the news media. But reporter Marie C. Baca of the Albuquerque Journal and the Columbia Journalism Review says Facebook's attempts to channel journalists into telling the story it wants before the public are as aggressive as anyone's.
- 7/23/2018 Jeffrey Wilson wanted a Wise Man's view of today's American political reality, so he conducted an interview with the scholar-activist Noam Chomsky; and he wanted to communicate what he learned to an audience that might never read Chomsky's books. So he turned his interview and some reality-testing of it into a graphic novel-style book The Instinct for Cooperation.
- 7/30/2018 America has had it both ways...as a country filled with beavers, to one where the busy aquatic rodents have been almost exterminated. Finding a livable middle ground for beavers and humans hasn't been easy, but Ben Goldfarb, author of the new book, Eager: The Surprising Secret Life of Beavers and Why They Matter, says we're getting there.
- 8/6/2018 Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador, AMLO for short, won the Presidency of Mexico by an overwhelming majority vote. He's also got strong majorities in both houses of Congress to tackle his promises to reduce crime and violence and uproot endemic corruption. And Victoria Gaytan of the think tank Global Americans reminds us, AMLO also has to deal with Donald Trump.
- 8/13/2018 Dona Ana County, in southern NM, is at the heart of what's expected to be the closest contest among the state's 3 Congressional races. In the past, low voter turnout has limited the county's influence on such political decisions, but this year, Heath Haussamen of NM Politics.net says, county election officials are determined to change that.
- 8/20/2018 "Do you know where the State of NM spends its money? Last year, 43 cents of every dollar was contracted to firms from outside NM, and that share has only increased in each of the last 5 years of the Martinez administration. John R. Roby, the big data specialist of Searchlight NM, not only dug out the info, he made it available on line for you.
- 8/27/2018 What does it mean when citizens of Los Angeles vote overwhelmingly to raise their own taxes to pay for housing for the homeless? Reporter Bryce Covert of The Nation says it's just one sign of several – including anti-austerity rebellions in the state legislatures of Kansas and Illinois, that 2018 may be a banner political year for progressives.
- 9/3/2018 Remember the Parkland, Florida, high school shootings? 17 students and staff members at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High were killed by a 19 year old former student, Nikolas Cruz, armed with an AR-15 style semi-automatic rifle and multiple magazines. "The Parkland effect" helped change gun laws in Florida, but Steve LeVine of Axios.com wonders if Parkland will affect the November elections.

- 9/10/2018 "There is neglected history and there is hidden history." In his award-winning book The Other Slavery, Andres Resendez uncovers both the neglected history Native American slavery in America, and the hidden history of Christopher Columbus, big-time slave trader.
- 9/17/2018 The standard measurements all show the US economy doing well. So how come so many Americans are doing so badly? And can an economy live off by skimming the fat off the top, while down below, major cities are awash in people living in homelessness and hunger and small towns are fading away? Financial journalist Nomi Prins, the author of Collusion: How Central Bankers Rigged the World sees signs of trouble ahead.
- 9/24/2018 A California jury has ordered Monsanto to pay a high school groundskeeper named Dewayne (Lee) Johnson $289 million because Monsanto never warned Johnson that the weed-killer Roundup could give him cancer. Carey Gillam wrote the investigative book Whitewash: The Story of a Weed Killer, Cancer and the Corruption of Science.
