ANNUAL REPORT

2012
NPR NEWS &
ALL THAT JAZZ

Pacific Lutheran University is proud of KPLU's many successes and contributions—providing information and entertainment to the largest audience of any station in the Pacific Northwest, and to thousands of online listeners worldwide. KPLU's thought-provoking special series, expert news coverage, and award-winning jazz and blues lineup reflect PLU's commitment to lifelong learning, community service, and appreciation of music with a uniquely American heritage.

This annual report celebrates another stellar year for KPLU. The radio station's achievements are made possible through the generous support of those who listen, the business community, local and regional foundations, the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, and in-kind support from Pacific Lutheran University. Your partnership is an investment that guarantees the independence and integrity of KPLU's programming and supports its goal of enriching life in the Pacific Northwest and beyond.

Sincerely,

Thomas W. Krise, Ph.D.
President
Pacific Lutheran University

It is with great excitement and some sadness that I write my final letter for KPLU's Annual Report. I'm excited because I am embarking on a new adventure in my life; and I'm sad because after six exciting and productive years, I leave the best station that I've ever known. I love KPLU's jazz and blues, and the fact that KPLU presents the very best in news coverage. I will miss the staff, all of whom are top-notch professionals, and I will miss my interactions with listeners and donors. I see only success for the future of public radio and KPLU because we have the very best talent and the most dedicated listeners in the world.

I will be offering my assistance and hope you will join me in supporting KPLU's new General Manager, Erik Nycklemoe. (Read more about Erik below.) Thanks so much for listening and supporting KPLU and Jazz24.

Sincerely,

Paul Stankavich
KPLU General Manager
January 2013

About KPLU & Jazz 24

KPLU has been on the air since 1966. Licensed by the Federal Communications Commission to the Board of Regents of Pacific Lutheran University, the station broadcasts from its studios on the PLU campus in Tacoma, and its studios in downtown Seattle. KPLU is the region's leading source of award-winning jazz, blues, and in-depth local and NPR news. KPLU's signal network from Victoria, B.C. to Astoria, Oregon includes 88.5 KPLU (Seattle/Tacoma), 90.1 KPLI (Olympia), 89.3 KVIX (Port Angeles/Victoria), 88.9 KPLK (Sedro-Woolley), and translators in six Western Washington communities.

Jazz24 is KPLU's full-time jazz webstream which can also be heard on the station's HD2 radio channel. It has listeners in all 50 states and over 135 countries. Jazz24 provides programming to six affiliates across the United States. Through its online partnership with NPR Music, Jazz24's dynamic stream of jazz artists and songs is exposed to even more jazz fans around the world. NPR Music also features Jazz24's unique "Studio Session" performances by some of today's greatest musicians, and interesting jazz lists that focus on different themes compiled by Jazz24's music staff.

News and Information Highlights

Erik Nycklemoe was hired as the general manager of KPLU and Jazz24 in December 2012. Most recently, Erik was Director of Network Initiatives for the American Public Media Group in St. Paul, Minnesota (the company that owns Minnesota Public Radio), which included strategic planning for the MPR network as well as program acquisitions, contract negotiations and special projects such as eradicating hunger in Minnesota. While at MPR Erik was responsible for broadcast operations of the 38 network stations, directed technical operations for national programs and was interim Chief Technology Officer. Earlier in his career, Erik was Program Director at KNAU-Arizona Public Radio and News Director at New Hampshire Public Radio. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from St. Olaf College and a Master of Theological Studies from Harvard University Divinity School. Erik has been on board since February 4.

88.5 KPLU recorded its highest ratings in the history of the station with a weekly audience of 387,100 (Arbitron October 2012 survey).

Combined online listenership to KPLU and Jazz24 achieved an all-time high with a weekly audience of 59,000.

Jazz24 secured six affiliates in 2012: Vermont Public Radio; Boise State Public Radio; WKGC/Panama City, Florida; Troy University Public Radio, Alabama; and WEMC/Harrisonburg, Kentucky.

Leading up to the General Election, KPLU News produced a special series called "If it's Legal... Five Ways Legalized Pot Could Affect Your Life," which separated facts from rumors and explained exactly what would change if Washington State's Marijuana Legalization and Regulation Initiative were approved. Following its passage, the KPLU rebroadcast the series in the form of a one-hour special, "Marijuana: What's Next?" which included new material from the KPLU News Team.

KPLU hired two reporters: Youth & Education reporter Gabriel Spitzer, and Business & Labor reporter Ashley Gross. Both previously worked at renowned Chicago public radio station, WBEZ.

KPLU added NPR's immensely popular, Peabody-Award winning "Oddly Informative News Quiz," Wait Wait... Don't Tell Me! to its Saturday afternoon lineup at 2 p.m.

KPLU's 2012 mentoring project pairing Western Washington high school jazz bands and professional jazz musicians culminated in the release of KPLU School of Jazz – Volume 8. Each year's CD raises money for the schools' music programs.

NPR Music selected Jazz24 as one of eight streams featured in the first edition of its platform for Roku, a player that delivers Internet streams to TV's.

Jazz24 applied for and received an upgrade to its Google AdWords Grant to advertise Jazz24 on Google's Search Network. (It continues to be the largest marketing grant ever garnered by the station). The grant amount was increased to $480,000 annually--allowing Jazz24 an even greater opportunity to grow its global audience.

KPLU's signal serving Mount Vernon listeners moved to its new frequency at 88.9 FM (Sedro-Woolley). The move was made in order to improve KPLU's reception and coverage in Skagit Valley.

KPLU took a group of 100 listeners to the Victoria International JazzFest.

In 2012, KPLU News reporters won two Regional Edward R. Murrow Awards (Radio Television Digital News Association), one of which was for a story that aired as part of I Wonder Why...? KPLU's popular long-running series, which explored topics that are unique to the Pacific Northwest. Also, KPLU reporter Charla Bear garnered a first-place award from the Native American Journalists Association for her story as part of KPLU's Artscape series.
