Community Cinema
Thursday, November 1, 7:30 p.m.
WKAR invites you to attend the next Community Cinema event, a screening of Solar Mamas, followed by a discussion with Judy Martin.
Solar Mamas visits India’s Barefoot College. Founded by Bunker Roy, it provides impoverished rural women with an education that empowers them to make their communities self-reliant and sustainable. The program follows a 30-year-old Jordanian mother of four who is traveling outside her village for the first time to attend Barefoot’s solar engineering program.
Community Cinema screenings are free but space is limited. Please register online at WKAR.org. The location of this event is to be announced and will be posted on WKAR.org when available.

WKAR Annual Food Bank Drive | November 1 – December 15
Once again, WKAR will host a drive for the Greater Lansing Food Bank. This is WKAR’s 25th year of supporting the organization with items collected from viewers, listeners, MSU students and our colleagues at Michigan State University. As always, high-protein, professionally packaged items are welcome, including canned juices, peanut butter, soups and stews and cereal. In addition, we also accept personal products, including toilet paper, tissue and dental items.
Last year, we collected 978 pounds! Help us top 1,000 this year! Bring items to WKAR’s south lobby at the Communication Arts & Sciences building on the MSU campus. Visit WKAR.org for a map.

An Evening at WKAR
Thursday, November 15, at 7:30 p.m.
Please join us here at WKAR for our next Evening at WKAR, a preview of Ken Burns’ new documentary The Dust Bowl. A segment from the four-hour documentary will be screened. If available, WKAR may also have a speaker addressing this significant period in American history. This event is free, but advance reservations are required online at WKAR.org.

Silver Bells in the City
Friday, November 16, 7 p.m.
WKAR will provide coverage of downtown Lansing’s Silver Bells in the City Electric Light Parade. Why go out when you can stay in, keep cozy and enjoy this annual event at home!

Thank You for Giving!

Thanksgiving is a time of year to give thanks to those who made a difference in the lives of others. WKAR is grateful to you for the many award-winning programs we are able to fund, for the many mid-Michigan community members that we have assisted through educational programs and shared arts and culture.

Best Wishes to you and your family during this Thanksgiving season.

Making of War Horse takes you behind the scenes. (Nov. 24)
Here's how you make your tree:

1. Draw leaf shapes on colored paper, or trace around cookie cutters.

2. Cut out the leaves carefully with scissors. (Cut out some extra leaves so guests can add their own thankful thoughts.)

3. Using crayons or markers, write things that you are thankful for on the leaves, like family members, the dog or pizza! Help the little ones record their thoughts.

4. Attach your leaves to bare tree branches with tape or glue, or by punching a hole in each leaf and tying them to the tree branches with string or ribbon.

5. Put stones or sand in the bottom of the vase for stability. If you have acorns you picked up on a walk outdoors, sprinkle them in for effect!

6. Put the branches in the vase and your tree is complete.

More ideas for promoting giving and thankfulness

- Have your child choose a gently used toy or book to give to a worthy cause.

- Lead by example. Bring your child along when you make a donation to something like a food bank drive and explain why giving is important.

- Let your child help decide where you can make a charitable contribution.

Materials

- colored paper
- leaf-shaped cookie cutters*
- pencils, markers or crayons
- scissors (adult and child-size)
- adhesive (glue or tape) or string and a hole punch
- 2 to 3 bare tree branches
- tall vase
- stones or sand
- acorns*

*If you have them.

Peter and Tim Talk Music!

Lansing Symphony Orchestra musical director and conductor Timothy Muffitt stopped by WKAR in October to spend a couple of hours with WKAR Radio station manager Peter Whorf. They shared a terrific conversation on 90.5 WKAR about the conductor’s favorite music and insights.

Lots of WKAR fans submitted questions via the WKAR and 90.5 Facebook pages. The two hours flew by and, judging from the feedback, the visit was a great success. Or, as Bill Fullmer wrote on WKAR.org, “Please repeat this show so I can hear all of it. Just caught a small part and it was terrific!”

Muffitt was kind enough to share his playlist with you. With the holidays coming, maybe these will end up on your gift list!

Muffitt’s Picks Playlist

- Brahms/op. 10 Ballades/ Glenn Gould
- Beethoven/String Quartet op 74/ Quartetto Italiano
- Haydn/Symphony #92/ English Sinfonia
- Prokofiev/Piano Concerto #3 Finale/LSO, Muffitt, Votapek
- Whitacre/hope, faith, life/love/ Polyphony
- Debussy/Images/Zoltan Kocsis
- Berio/Black is the Color/ Royal Concertgebouw, Chailly
- Theofanidis/Rainbow Body/ Atlanta Symphony, Spano
