Volunteers Key to WKAR Success!

As a community-funded medium, WKAR’s volunteers are vital in providing regular programming, answering listener questions, and making sure we always have a well-stocked library. "They’re the heart and soul of the station," says WKAR General Manager Mike Lubbers.

"We’re always looking for more volunteers. We need volunteers to help us do our job of providing the best public broadcasting possible. In return, we provide them with a great opportunity to be involved in their community." Lakeminster, Program Director, says, "We’re thrilled to have such a dedicated group of volunteers who give us their time and talent. As we celebrate National Public Radio Day on Monday, March 17, we’re proud to say that WKAR wouldn’t be the station it is without our dedicated volunteers."

Find out how you can be a part of this wonderful organization, and learn about all the great things volunteers do for WKAR, at wkar.org/volunteer.
