Brazil With Michael Palin
Mon., June 9, 9 pm

Join Michael Palin in Brazil, where he travels from Amazon jungle to Rio Olympics to figure out what makes Brazil tick. Palin is on a quest to explore the places that shaped Brazil’s history, its culture, and its people. He immerses himself in Brazil’s talk, music, and food; visits fashionable Rio and the historic city of Salvador; and stays with the indigenous people who live in the Amazon jungle. The tour offers a fascinating view of the world’s 5th largest country.

Freedom Summer: American Experience
Tues., June 10, 10 pm

During the summer of 1964, more than 3,000 young people crossed the South to join the fight against racism. With braver-than-brave courage, Freedom Summer volunteers embarked on a mission to bring the cause of civil rights to white America. The program, which featured ongoing reports on the Freedom Summer experience, is now available on DVD.

Mysteries of the Great Pyramid
Wed., June 11, 8 pm

In 1837, the German explorer Karl Friedrich Schinkel noted that the Great Pyramid was not the tallest structure in Egypt, as is commonly believed. He also commented that the ancient Egyptians had chosen the site for its spiritual significance. These theories were dismissed as quirkish musings of a foreigner. But in the last two decades, archaeologists have unearthed an unexpected secret within the pyramid. We examine the latest theories about the Great Pyramid's purpose.
