

JUNE SPECIALS:

Bob Marley – “Marley”

Friday, June 2 at 3pm

This one-hour program on the life and music of reggae star Bob Marley is a companion piece to the 2012 film “Marley.”

Music is a Holy Art:
A Richard Strauss Celebration
Monday, June 12 at 11am

Strauss soprano Deborah Voigt hosts this documentary celebrating the 150th anniversary of the birth of Richard Strauss. The program includes interviews with conductors Michael Tilson Thomas, Alan Gilbert, James Conlon, Leon Botstein, as well as Strauss experts Bryan Gilliam and Paul Thomason. More than 75 musical excerpts interweave with the narrative, which includes an investigation of Strauss’s most famous tone poems and operas, as well as a personal look at Strauss himself.

SOUND OPINIONS REMEMBERS

Chuck Berry

Friday, June 16 at 3pm & Saturday, June 17 at 11pm

Chuck Berry, one of the architects of rock ‘n’ roll, died on March 18, 2017 at age 90. Hosts Jim DeRogatis and Greg Kot reflect on the life, music, and enduring legacy of the legendary guitarist, lyricist, and singer.

Folktale of Fatherhood

Sunday, June 18 at 10pm

Take a tour of ‘good dadditudes’ around the globe. Folktales shares wise words, and music from the Americas, Europe, Africa, and a few musical islands—featuring David Seitz, Trapezoid, Simon & Garfunkle, William Gutierrez, Terra Folk, Obo Addy and more!

Compact Discoveries – “Summer Music”

Wednesday, June 21 at 11am

Enjoy classical/pops orchestral music inspired by summer with host Fred Flaxman. Cool off with “Summer Nights” (“Les Nuits d’Ete”) by Berlioz, “Summertime” by Gershwin, “Summer” from “The Four Seasons” by Vivaldi (in a version for harp and orchestra), Alfvén’s “Midsummer Vigil” (in a version by the composer for piano, four hands), the theme from “Summer of ‘42” by Michel Legrand, and the theme from “A Summer Place” by Max Steiner.

A Joyful Cry: Brazil’s Choro Music

4-part series Saturdays at 10pm

Tune in for a four-part series about a unique, exciting and virtuosic musical style – all the way from Brazil. The word choro (pronounced SHOH-roh) comes from the word “cry,” yet, it’s some of the happiest and most energetic music one could ever hear. From its beginnings in the late 1860s, choro truly showcases the incredible artistry of the musicians who play it. Its distinctive rhythm and catchy melodies could only come from Brazil. It’s a genre with its own vitality and character, but choro does also have rich connections to classical and jazz which are explored throughout the series.

Introducing...

Weekdays at 9:35am

Stop us if you’ve heard any of these before: a Mozart piano trio for tubas; a progressive rock song performed with a harp as the main instrument; a singer mimicking the sound of a clarinet with an orchestra? That, along with a healthy dose of well-known pieces, is the aim of Classiclectic, an eclectic collection of classical music, on Public Radio 90.

Kurt Hauswirth hosts a journey through all corners of the classical music spectrum, from ancient to modern, exploring different styles, juxtapositions and unexpected surprises from Public Radio 90’s classical music library; the familiar and the uncommon to excite and charm your day. Chances are, you’ll never hear the same thing twice...or, at least not the same way.

Pine Mountain
Music Festival 2017

The 27th Season

The Pine Mountain Music Festival 2017 season takes place June 16 through July 1, at performance venues in Iron Mountain, Marquette, Houghton and Hancock. Last season PMMF introduced a new vision for the Festival including new artists and new genres that created greater audience diversity, strong patron reviews, and solid ticket sales. This year, they continue that fresh approach to programming, with classical and opera intermingling with folk and jazz.

Dear Public Radio 90 Members,

Thank you everyone who pitched-in your time, your talents and your cash during our recent Summerfest fundraiser helping us raise $23,127 for the programs you love.

A special thanks to Barb Snyder of Escanaba, Marilyn Klahn and Don and Sandra Balmer of Marquette, and Joe Kirkish of Houghton for providing challenge dollars to encourage more listeners to pitch-in.

As of May 25th, listeners like you along with regional businesses and organizations, have already helped us raise $344,127 of the $400,000 needed to pay program costs through 2017.

Thanks for your continued financial support and help in sustaining Public Radio 90 for all our listeners to enjoy. Sometimes when we have something easily available to us, we can take it for granted. You assume it will always be there because it always has been. WNMU-FM, Public Radio 90 has been providing local public broadcasting services to listeners across our upper Great Lakes region since 1963 so it's easy to assume that when you tune your radio to 90.1 FM or connect to our internet stream at WNMUFM.ORG, you'll always be able to hear your favorite public radio programs.

As I write this letter, Public Radio 90 is still working to raise the remaining $55,873 needed by the end of June to pay the program bills to NPR and other program producers and keep WNMU-FM operational for another year. Yes, it's a challenging goal, but I'm confident that with your help we can do it!!

WNMU operates on faith. You've told us that Morning Edition, All Things Considered, A Way With Words and other public radio favorites are important to your listening experience, as is our local news and music programming. Public Radio 90 invests in those programs having faith that you and other listeners will help us pay the costs to air these programs.

Please know how tremendously valuable your support really is. Even though our program costs continue to rise, you expect us to be able to maintain the top quality program service that public radio is known for. And while you can turn on your radio or listen online to all the public radio programming you please without it costing you anything, it will cost WNMU-FM, Public Radio 90 more than $900,000 during 2017 to keep the station operating and to bring those programs to you.

When your alarm wakes you up to Nicole Walton and NPR's Morning Edition; when your auto preset buttons are tuned to Public Radio 90 to make sure you don't miss Classiclectic with Kurt Hauswirth or Night Studio, Weekday and Sound Spectrum with Hans Alhstrom; when the music takes you back to the great experience you had at the Hiawatha Traditional Music Festival, the Pine Mountain Music Festival and the Marquette Area Blues Fest, please remember that everything you hear on WNMU-FM, Public Radio 90 is made possible through the generous support of listeners like you.

Thanks so much for your continued support of Public Radio 90. Everything you hear on-air is a direct result of your generous contributions. If you made a pledge promise earlier this year and haven't yet sent your check, please take a minute to send it today, or go to WNMUFM.ORG and click on the DONATE button at the top of the page.

Without you, Public Radio 90 would just be radio. Thanks again for keeping public radio alive and strong here in our upper Great Lakes region.

May your summer be sunny and warm with cool lake breezes.

Warm Regards,

Evelyn Massaro, Station Manager

The Bergonzi String Quartet premieres Scott Flavin's innovative new stage play for two actors and string quartet: The Beethoven Project. Soprano Julie Tabash Kelsheimer returns to the festival with two sensational young opera artists in Opera Scenes. And the inspiring

UPstarts! program returns for its sixth year, with the young artists being chosen for the first time from a peninsula-wide talent contest.

The Festival is excited to introduce Joshua Davis, the bestselling and most popular folk singer-songwriter in the U.P., and an emerging superstar on the national scene. Joshua earned widespread acclaim as a finalist on NBC's reality talent show, The Voice. Another Upper Peninsula-based act, The Lake Effect Quintet, with local legends Mike Irish, Mike Christianson, and Glenn Basham, makes its electric return to the festival with an imaginative array of modern music, from jazz standards to rock classics to popular tunes.

And, looking forward to next year, PMMF has announced that the Festival will return to its opera roots in the 2018 season with a new production of Bizet's Carmen.

Visit the Pine Mountain Music Festival website at www.pmmf.org to learn more about the organization and the 2017 season, and get links to ticket and venue information.

Pine Mountain Music Festival 2017 Season Events:

The Bergonzi String Quartet

Scott Flavin (quartet violinist) premieres his imaginative new play, The Beethoven Project, for this year's Festival. Written for two actors and string quartet, this collaborative multi-genre work offers a unique glimpse into the life of Ludwig van Beethoven. His trials, triumphs, and loves come alive in this powerful presentation, featuring the words of Beethoven and his contemporaries, along with music from his groundbreaking string quartets. Julie Tabash Kelsheimer, in her third residency with the festival, performs the role of Bettina; Keweenaw actor, Mark Wilcox, is Beethoven.

The Lake Effect Quintet

With local legends Mike Irish, Mike Christianson, Dan Komarzec, and Glenn Basham, this groundbreaking instrumental ensemble presents an innovative array of modern music — from jazz standards to rock classics to popular tunes that appeals to all ages. With an "unusual" instrumentation of guitar, tuba/ trombone, fiddle, bass, and drums, the quintet is one of the most refreshing and imaginative professional ensembles in the Midwest.

Opera Scenes

As a tantalizing appetizer for the Pine Mountain Music Festival's 2018 production of Bizet's Carmen, we bring in three award-winning young opera singers to present a timeless "Night at the Opera." Julie Tabash Kelsheimer (left), Kelsey Park (center), and Bille Bruley (right) sing arias, duets, and trios that evoke love, hate, tragedy, revenge, and ecstasy. This impressive trio has numerous prestigious festivals and companies to their credit, including Central City Opera, Glimmerglass Festival, Madison Opera, and Florentine Opera Company.

Joshua Davis

Earning widespread acclaim as a finalist on NBC's reality talent show, The Voice, Joshua Davis is the best-selling and most popular folk singer-songwriter in the Upper Peninsula, and an emerging superstar on the national scene. Joshua has nine original albums (three solo) to his credit, with his debut album titled Last Winter in the Copper Country. His diverse songwriting style has been described as "blending the roots of American music with gritty rock n' roll and vintage soul" and "some of the liveliest and most rocking roots music around." Davis brings his sensational trio with him to the 2017 festival.

UPstarts!

The inspiring UPstarts! concert series features incredibly talented young musicians native to the Upper Peninsula. Audiences rave about the youthful charm and bold musicality these emerging artists bring to the festival. For the first time, winning participants will be selected from a peninsula-wide UPstarts! talent contest, in which the musicians submit video auditions to vie for one of four prestigious spots. Susie Byykkonen, the festival's esteemed pianist, will accompany the group.

Monday-Friday at 9am

Through Friday, June 16, Norman Gilliland reads The Confessions of Young Nero by Margaret George. Being in Caesar's line is a lot to put on a boy, and Nero is no exception. In the Roman Empire, he discovers, it is best to be cruel to avoid being dead. Musical theme: Holst: The Planets: Mars, Boston Pops/John Williams (Philips 420-177-2.)

Monday June 19 Susan Sweeney begins reading Brush Back By Sara Paretsky. When an old flame asks for her help, hardcore sleuth VI. Warshawski goes back to her South Chicago neighborhood roots to solve a long-ago murder, and takes on the Chicago political machine. She really would rather not. Musical theme: Medeski Martin & Wood Latin Shuffle from the album Combustication.

Chapter a Day from Wisconsin Public Radio has been airing in Wisconsin since 1927 and features a variety of readers. Episodes are available online for one week after they air.

Vehicle Donations Help Keep Public Radio 90 Running

Are you having a hard time selling that old car or truck? Maybe you just don't want the hassle of selling it or you've just hung onto it too long. That's what our Public Radio 90 Vehicle Donation Program is for.

Donating is easy and will help relieve the stress of what to do with that old car that's simply taking up space. It's so easy. Simply call our designated vehicle donation line at 866-WNMU-CAR (866-966-8227) or complete the online form at wnmufm.org/vehicle-donation.

Charitable Auto Resources (CARS), the company that coordinates vehicle donations to WNMU, will determine the best place to sell your vehicle to get the best price and then contact you for a pick up date. A tow truck from a local towing company will come to your home or designated pick up site and pick up your vehicle. They will also give you the paperwork that you'll need to claim a tax deduction for your donated vehicle.

Once your vehicle is sold, WNMU, Public Radio 90 is sent the proceeds. With an average of one donated vehicle per week, car donations are now making a significant difference in helping us pay for the programs and services that are important to you. Thanks!
