OF THE SPOKANE PUBLIC RADIO

Legacy Society

A charitable bequest in your will or living trust leaves a gift to the station after your lifetime.

It's simple. Just a few words in your will or trust will suffice:

"I bequeath the sum of $_____ [or _____ percent (%)] to Spokane Public Radio, Spokane Washington for its general purposes [or for a designated purpose]."

Partnering with the Inland Northwest Community Foundation

SPR has set up the Endowment Fund for the Future at the Inland Northwest Community Foundation.

You can give directly to our endowment fund. Visit INWCF.org. Click on "Give Now." Select Spokane Public Radio. Fill out the form, then click "Submit" to make a payment behind a secure firewall.

Your gift goes straight to the endowment of SPR to strengthen and secure our service, maximizing the power of your gift over time.

Tax ID: 23-7097524

For more information, visit SpokanePublicRadio.org/planned-giving, call the station at (509 or 800) 328-5729, or send email to plannedgiving@kpbx.org.

Please notify us so we can thank you — either publicly or privately, according to your wishes and as appropriate.

THE Future

SPOKANE PUBLIC RADIO
Enlightens ... Educates ... Inspires... Endures

*When you consider your legacy to the future...
... consider SPR in your estate plans.*

Whatever your age or income, SPR can create a personal legacy that can benefit you and your family while preserving public radio for future generations.

Spokane Public Radio is building a planned giving & endowment program to sustain and grow its service.

"I've included SPR in my will because I believe deeply in its mission—great music, community engagement, and honest news reporting. I have loved this station since the day it went on the air. Long may it wave!"

Outside of membership, one of the most impactful ways listeners can help is through a planned gift.

It's easy, and it leaves a great legacy for future generations.

Simple steps to ensure the future:

1. You decide that Spokane Public Radio is worth supporting and preserving.
2. You contact your attorney and ask them to include Spokane Public Radio in your will with the gift amount or percentage of your estate.
3. You receive an updated will from your attorney.
4. Give to the Endowment Fund through the Inland Northwest Community Foundation.
